As Aviation Turbine Fuel (ATF) prices are dynamic, IndiGo will continue to adjust its fares and components to respond to any change in market conditions, the airline said in a statement. Fuel cost accounts for a significant chunk of a carrier's operational costs. In October 2023, IndiGo levied fuel charge up to ₹1,000 to offset the spike in ATF prices | P13

Amid spat with allies, Cong to begin seat talks

War of words between TMC and Congress over seats in West Bengal for Lok Sabha polls

PREETHA NAIR @New Delhi

AMID growing rumblings among INDIA bloc partners in various states over seat-sharing for the Lok Sabha polls, the Congress on Thursday said it will begin talks with its allies soon.

The development came hours after the Congress and Trinamool got into an ugly spat over seats in West Bengal. Earlier in the day, state Congress chief Adhir Ranjan Chowdhury hit out at TMC chief Mamata Banerjee for offering just two of the state's 42 seats to the grand old party. A furious Chowdhury said his party doesn't need Banerjee's alms and can win more seats on its own. In response, the TMC said 'bad mouthing alliance partners and seat-sharing can't go hand-in-hand.'

In Punjab also, the Congress and AAP leaders have been issuing statements against each other over the ED's summoning of Delhi CM Arvind Kejriwal.

Later in the evening, the Congress' National Alliance Committee (NAC), which was set up to facilitate seat-sharing agreements with INDIA partners, met party president Mallikarjun Kharge and senior leader Rahul Gandhi, and submitted a detailed report outlining potential state-wise alliances.

NEW NAME FOR RAHUL'S YATRA

The Congress on Thursday renamed Rahul Gandhi's East to West yatra as Bharat Jodo Nyay Yatra, which will be flagged off from Manipur on January 14. Earlier, the yatra was called Bharat Nyay Yatra. The party will invite all members of INDIA bloc to join the yatra along its route

Speaking to the media, NAC head Mukul Wasnik said state-level talks with allies will start soon. Other members of the panel include former Union minister Salman Khurshid, former CMs Ashok Gehlot and Bhupesh Baghel, and senior leader Mohan Prakash.

"We have submitted our report to Congress leadership based on the feedback from state unions on the feasibility and prospects of forming alliances with various parties in different states. Now, discussions with INDIA bloc allies will begin without any delay. We are aware that it has to be done on a priority basis," he said, adding: "Every state has different political dynamics. We have to take all those factors into account."

Sources said the party is mulling alliances in nine states including Delhi, West Bengal, Bihar, Maharashtra, and UP.

Early LCA makers still await CCS pension

RAMU PATIL @Bengaluru

AFTER years of hard work by a dedicated team, the homegrown Light Combat Aircraft (LCA), Tejas took to the skies on January 4, 2001 on its maiden flight. The fighter added strength to the capabilities of the Indian Air Force (IAF) and gave a big boost to the "atmanirbhar" initiative. But those who formed the bedrock of the project at the Aeronautical Development Agency (ADA) are still waiting for their Central Civil Services (CCS) pension.

Since the last two decades, about 330 former ADA employees, who had joined the Agency before 2004 have been requesting the Centre for the CCS pension. ADA was set up in 1984 as an autonomous institution under the Ministry of Defence and registered under the Societies Registration Act. Those who joined ADA after 2004 come under the pension scheme like other government employees, but not those who had joined before.

About 330 had joined before 2004 after resigning or taking voluntary retirement from their parent government departments, PSUs, and autonomous bodies as they wanted to serve a major national mission mode defence programme with their specific expertise and knowledge, the ADA Retired Employees Welfare Association (AREWA) stated in a memorandum submitted to the Union Finance Minister in June 2022.

"At that time, they could not forecast the fact that the loss of their lifetime pension in exchange for CPF (provident fund) benefits would result in extreme financial hardship for their families because of the currently prevailing meager returns on investment of their CPF benefits subsequent to their retirement," the AREWA said.

WISHES FROM MAN WHO FLEW MAIDEN LCA FLIGHT

"From humble beginnings, we have come a long way. The development of Tejas has progressed at a very steady pace with the result that the aircraft has been inducted into the IAF and a large order has been placed. Best wishes to you all," said Wg Cdr Rajiv Kothiyal KC (Retd), the pilot who flew the maiden flight of the LCA on January 4, 2001.

India and South Africa share the Freedom Trophy after levelling the series 1-1 on Thursday | AP

India bounce back with shortest Test

GOMESH S @Chennai

INDIA and South Africa were on a new land in Newlands, literally. 642 balls. 107 overs. Four-and-a-half sessions. This is how the second Test panned out in Cape Town. As the visitors conjured a seven-wicket win to level the two-Test series, there were quite a few records too.

It is the shortest in terms of number of balls — two of the next five on the list are from 19th century. Lowest in terms of match aggregate (442) for a Test involving India and South Africa.

If Jasprit Bumrah was the star on Thursday, Mohammed Siraj and Kagiso Rabada shared the spoils on Wednesday. Apart from their bowling, this Test will be talked about for the way Newlands surface behaved. It was mischievous as batters struggled with uneven bounce. That 23 wickets fell on Day One and 10 on the next were testament to that. Rohit said as much after the match. He said there are no complaints before adding, "...as long as everyone keeps their mouth shut in India and don't talk too much about Indian pitches."

"Because you come here to challenge yourself. Yes, it is dangerous. It is challenging. When people come to India, it is again pretty challenging as well. When you are put up against a challenge like that, you come and face it. That's what happens in India, but, in India on Day One, if the pitch starts turning, people start talking about 'Puff of dust! Puff of dust!' There's so much crack here (Cape Town) on the pitch. People are not looking at that," Rohit said, adding that the match referees and ICC should keep their eyes open and be neutral. City's Mount Carmel wants university status, to go the co-ed way

PURAN CHOUDHARY @Bengaluru

MOUNT Carmel College (MCC), one of Bengaluru's historic educational institutions for women, has decided to go the co-ed way. The autonomous institution affiliated to Bengaluru City University (BCU) on Thursday said that all its programmes are now open to boys. Earlier in 2016, the college had allowed male students to apply for only postgraduate courses.

For 75 years, the institution has provided quality education to female students and secured reaccreditation of A+ Grade by NAAC. Several years ago, St Joseph's College also opened its doors to girls, leaving only a few institutions such as Jyothi Nivas PU College, Maharani Cluster University and Bishop Cotton Women's Christian College allowing enrolment for only one gender.

The co-ed decision for the academic year 2024-25 was made by the management and governing council at MCC. Dr George Lekha, Principal, MCC, told TNIE, "This decision has been taken by the management, as next year we want to attain university status. The council was of the opinion that we have to move past being a women's college. I believe the move is progressive, and since we have completed 75 years of our establishment, this is the appropriate next step."

The principal added that the college has also made several changes in its academic programmes and shifted its focus towards becoming a university. "We don't want to be an all-women's university. So it seemed viable that we start enrolling boys in all courses," she explained.

Dr Lekha also emphasised that there would be no drastic changes for the college, as they have not decided on increasing the intake of students. She said there would be gradual changes and the administration would have to wait and see how many applications come in for the upcoming academic year. P2

75 YEARS OF SERVICE TO EDUCATION

Land at a premium, dead travel from KR Pura to Kolar for last rites

MOHAMMED YACOOB @Bengaluru

MEMBERS of the Muslim community living in Basavanapura, Aiyappa Nagar, Swatantranagar, Vijaya Bank Colony, Seegehalli and areas surrounding KR Pura have been running from pillar to post to get a piece of land sanctioned as a burial ground.

People from the minority community living in the locality, which has a Muslim population of about 20,000, have to travel about 50km to neighbouring Kolar district to give their loved ones a decent burial, as the issue has remained unaddressed for the past 15 years. The committee members of Masjid-e-Mahmoodia in Basavanapura gave a petition to Deputy Chief Minister DK Shivakumar during the 'Government at Your Doorstep' programme on Wednesday, to look into the kabristan (burial ground) issue.

Shahbuddin Khan, secretary of the masjid, said the nearest kabristan is the Medahalli Burial Ground, and last year, the staff there had warned them not to bring any more bodies as their space was also meagre. "The burial ground is hardly 20,000 sqft and hence the committee has asked us not to bring any bodies. In case there is a death now, we have to inform masjid committees in Kolar or Hoskote to seek their permission, and then take the bodies for burial," said Khan.

He said the deputy commissioner had also written to the tahsildar on March 3, 2023, seeking suitable land, but the file has been gathering dust. Community members did a survey and found three survey numbers to help the revenue department grant a piece of land, which they would be sharing with Bengaluru East tahsildar. CONTINUED ON: P2

JEE MAIN DATES CLASH WITH PU PRACTICALS, STUDENTS WORRIED

Both are scheduled from Jan-end to Feb 10; PU department to look into schedule

PURAN CHOUDHARY @Bengaluru

STUDENTS from Karnataka aspiring to join Indian Institute of Technology (IIT), National Institute of Technology (NIT), International Institute of Information Technology (IIITs) and other centrally funded technical institutions are likely to miss the entrance tests, with the second Pre University (PU) practical exams scheduled in the same week.

The National Testing Agency (NTA) has scheduled the Joint Entrance Examination (JEE Main) 2024 between January 24 and February 1, 2024. According to the timetable issued by the Department of School Education (PU), the practicals are scheduled from January 29 to February 10, 2024. Students, parents and coaching class authorities have demanded that the education department push the practicals by a couple of days and avoid the overlap.

"Many PU students from the state will miss out on the JEE Main exams as the practicals are compulsory, and a student who misses practicals will be declared failed. On an average, 50-60 per cent of PU Science students appear for the JEE exams as they want to opt for those fields. However, the examination board is reluctant to change the dates," said a parent.

Usually, JEE Main exams are conducted during a certain period and students are allotted different dates to appear for the test. This leaves students unaware of the dates when their entrance exam might be held. The entrance exams are conducted in two sessions – January 2024 and April 2024 — giving students the chance to analyse their performance.

When TNIE reached out to PU officials, they gave an assurance that the situation would be considered and any change in schedule would be conveyed to students at the earliest.

As exams approach, guest lecturers' protest leaves colleges in the lurch

PURAN CHOUDHARY @Bengaluru

DEMANDING regularisation of their services, hundreds of guest lecturers from across the state, who arrived in the city from Tumakuru on Wednesday, continued their protest at Freedom Park on Thursday. With so many lecturers out of classes, colleges and universities are suffering. With examinations round the corner and the stress of completing the curriculum on a tight deadline, students and college administrations are left in a lurch.

The guest lecturers' long stand-off with the state government will also affect the performance of students as colleges reportedly look at moving their examination dates if the situation persists and some have no idea how to work around this situation. Several student organisations also protested against the strike as a month has gone by without any classes being conducted in various government colleges.

"Since 50 days, no classes have taken place and we are struggling. The college announced exams for January 23, 2024, but not even half of our curriculum is completed. We are trying to prepare for the exams by watching online videos and learning from YouTube," said Lokesh DV, a final-year commerce student.

L Gomathi Devi, Vice-Chancellor, Maharani Cluster Univeristy, said, "Around 140 guest lecturers teach at the university. So far, only 30-40 per cent of the curriculum has been completed. Though we announced the exam dates, the courses are not completed, so we will not go ahead with the examinations."

The VC added that students in the commerce stream are the most affected. Most of the guest faculty members are needed for the commerce students and the university is facing a huge problem now. With Science and Arts, permanent teachers have pitched in and over 60 per cent of those curriculum has been completed.

Colleges affiliated with Bengaluru University (BU) are stuck in a similar situation. With 17 colleges under it, VC Jayakara Shetty M stated that they were facing some problems in addressing the concerns raised by colleges in completing the curriculum without enough lecturers. "If the protests are not called off, we are soon going to call a meeting with all the principals to decide the next course of action. At BU, most of the guest faculty members have been conducting their regular classes."

At Nrupathunga University in Bengaluru, permanent lecturers have been sharing the load of guest lecturers. "We have completed 90 per cent of theory classes and might face postponement by a couple of days. Fortunately, we started the semester quite early. We are conducting extra classes to complete the remaining curriculum," said Srinivas S Bali, Vice-Chancellor.

KANNADA ROW

Signboard survey to be done by Jan 15

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

DAYS after the row over use of Kannada in signboards at business establishments, the Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP) has directed its officials to complete the survey on the status of Kannada nameboards across the city by January 15.

Chief Commissioner Tushar Girinath said in case the display of Kannada in nameboards is below 60 per cent, notices will be issued to the establishments to ensure that they follow the rule within the stipulated time.

The development comes days after Chief Minister Siddaramaiah set February 28 as the deadline for businesses to implement the government order on 60 per cent Kannada in signboards.

Girinath held a meeting in this regard with the zonal commissioners on Thursday and instructed them to take steps to ensure that shops and establishments that do not use 60 per cent Kannada language on signboards follow the rule. He suggested that businesses in all sectors on arterial and sub-arterial roads in the city should be covered in the survey, and awareness about the Kannada language rule should be brought in among establishment owners.

KSPCB keeps tabs on pollution levels at Mall of Asia

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

FOLLOWING a request from the police and complaints from locals, the Karnataka State Pollution Control Board (KSPCB) has started monitoring the air and noise pollution levels in and around Phoenix Mall of Asia, located on Ballari Road.

"There have been complaints of noise pollution from blowers, air conditioners and vehicles. The pollution levels will rise in the coming days and it is a matter of concern. We have also received complaints of rising air pollution levels due to increased vehicular movement in and around the mall. We have noted a rise in pollution levels on certain days and times," a senior KSPCB official told The New Indian Express.

The official added that reports will be presented to the high court that is hearing the matter and the police department which is addressing the issue. "We have also noted that the mall has not earmarked any lung space in and around it. It has also not demarcated its residential and commercial spaces. This is a violation that has been pointed out before the court as traffic and crowding will increase once the space is completely occupied," the official said.

Sparkle One Mall Developers Pvt Ltd, Mumbai, owners of the mall, had approached the Karnataka High Court after the city police ordered it to "restrict public access" from December 31, 2023, to January 15. On December 31, the HC had passed an interim order and asked both the parties to hold a meeting. The hearing was adjourned to January 5.

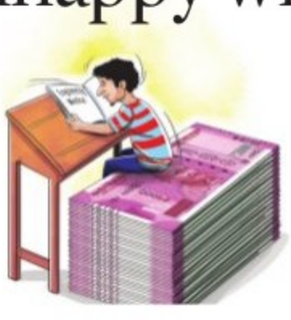
Students unhappy with uniform fee matrix

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

THE Higher Education Department has accepted an expert committee report to introduce a uniform fee structure for all 32 state-run universities. The report has fixed a fee matrix for undergraduate and postgraduate courses in the state for applications, tuition, exams and remuneration for invigilators and evaluators.

However, the student community is not pleased with the findings of the report as it does not include professional courses. They said the optional 10-20 per cent fee increase annually will make no difference in two years, affecting poor students in a big way.



EXPRESS ILLUSTRATION

The report by the Karnataka Higher Education Council (KHEC), led by Vice-Chairman Dr YS Siddegowda, suggested that universities can implement the new fee structure from any academic year. Universities can hike fees by 10 per cent per annum, or 20-25 per cent every two years. The suggestion was accepted by the government on October 16, 2023. However, the suggestions do not apply to universities teaching professional courses such as Rajiv Gandhi University of Health Sciences (RGUHS), University of Agricultural Sciences and Visvesvaraya Technological University (VTU) which has ikred students.

"If the new fee structure is implemented, the degree fees of government universities will reach the level of private degree colleges within two years," said Mahantesh Bilur, Secretary, All India Democratic Students Organisation (AIDSO).

He added that many universities are increasing the fees on the pretext of lack of funding, which leads to huge fee differences between government colleges and government universities. "The government should implement the same fee scale for government degree colleges and universities. Only then the poor students can study at universities set up for their welfare."

'Transition inevitable with changing times'

SPEAKING about a shared campus for Pre-University (PU) College and UG courses, Dr Lekha said, "I don't think that should be a problem as the intake of students for UG or PG courses is not increasing. In future, we might reserve a small percentage of seats for male students, but as of now that category hasn't been discussed."

Currently, in MCC, 13 boys are enrolled in several PG courses. Dr Suma Singh, Dean of Humanities, said the transition was inevitable with changing times and the legacy institution has geared up to turn the page and start a new chapter.

Daily Starscope

PETER VIDAL

05th January: It's a remarkable moment. This is a time of year when the general disposition of the celestial bodies evokes such mythical themes as rebirth and resurrection. Many cultures have traditions of solar-heroes who are reborn around now, bringing light to the world and enlightenment to our souls. I find this thought very inspiring.

ARIES (Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
You may now need to change your ways, and your approach to partnerships, especially professional ones. It is a time to rely on past experience and emphasise the positive virtues of authority and tradition. Stick to tried and tested methods and you won't go far wrong.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 - May 21)
Take advantage of all planetary movements aligned with your ninth solar house to clear up all long-standing problems. Don't flap around, however, for your status, reputation and prestige are at stake. Never forget that other people's good opinion of you is essential to your image of yourself.

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21)
It's because Mercury, normally such a light and frothy planet, is in a supportive part of the zodiac, that you must put frivolous questions to one side and adopt a firm, business-like approach in all things. In matters of the heart, by the way, you're attracted to people with good minds and strong opinions.

CANCER (June 22 - July 23)
For someone who is supposed to be rather shy, you can also be quite a show-off when you're in the mood. The way to dazzle partners now is to demonstrate how competent you are, perhaps displaying a skill nobody knew you possessed. Your capacity to surprise is as great as ever.

LEO (July 24 - Aug. 23)
You ought to be well on the mend emotionally after traumas which may have occurred up to four months ago. Venus and the Moon, the two most compassionate of all the planets, are bathing you in their soothing rays, so don't grumble. In fact, enjoy it!

VIRGO (Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
It's unlike you to over-dramatise the situation at work, but that's precisely what you are in danger of doing. It's one thing to be all artistic and theatrical, quite another to pick up the wrong end of the stick! Try to work out what's really happening before you voice your suspicions.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
There really is no point in trying to force others to sign on the dotted line against their better judgment. They will honour their commitments in due course, but you may be wise to offer a few concessions. You can bend the details without compromising your principles.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
You're a complicated person, and that's the simple reason why others can't always be expected to understand you. Your personal world is so often one of conflict and uncertainty, but look closely and you'll see that affection lies around every corner. I hope that now you will realise that love is but a breath away.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
A few simple statements may do much to safeguard your long-term happiness and security. I am not going to tell you what to say, for only you know exactly what is on your mind. But I can advise you to strike while the iron is hot, and not to waste time while others make the running.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
So much which was established and seemed to last for ever has been turned upside down, leaving many of you bewildered. I am not surprised, for Uranus is a disturbing planet. However, the dust is already beginning to settle, and when it does a new and brighter world will emerge.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
Your special skill lies in spotting the opportunities that other people miss. To say that you can turn almost any situation to your advantage would be a classic understate-ment. The message of the moment is teamwork, and by enrolling partners on your side you can cross every valley and climb every mountain.

PISCES (Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
It is up to you to determine where you let your dreams take you now. There is something distinctly feminine about the current mood, in the traditional meaning of the term: intuitive, graceful, loving and sensitive. But you must also cope with a determined streak of total independence.

NOT JUST SENIORS, ADULTS TOO CAN TAKE CORBEVAX BOOSTER

15-17 age group, those who turned 18 can take shot as precaution

BOSKY KHANNA @Bengaluru

THOSE who turned 18 in the past six months or so, are also entitled to take a booster shot or even the first shot of the Covid-19 vaccine.

According to state government guidelines, the Corbevax vaccine is being administered as a booster shot only to those who are above 60 years of age and have comorbidities; experts and members of the Technical Advisory Committee (TAC) have suggested to the government and health department that the vaccination be given to those who are 18 years and older.

Naveen Bhat, Managing Director, National Health Mission, said: "Even the 15-17 age group and those who recently turned 18 can take this as a precautionary dose. But we are not monitoring them on priority as of now." Adding to this, another senior health department official said: "If the Cowin portal accepts uploading details of those above 18 years of age, and allots a hospital and time slot, the vaccine will be administered, based on availability."

"The TAC has not recommended that the vaccine be administered to those above 18 on priority basis. However, since the number of takers for the booster shot is not rising, and the expiry date of the procured 30,000 vials is March, we will be taking a decision on administering the vaccine to those above 18, in the days to come," the health official said.

A TAC member, not wanting to be named, told The New Indian Express that Corbevax is suitable for and can be used as a primary vaccine also. But due to shortage of vaccines in the state, its administration is limiting it to the identified 23-25% of the population.

"Going by the package insert details, it can also be used as a flu vaccine and is also safe to be given to children above the age of five years, under strict doctor's supervision. It is also an approved vaccine from the Central Drugs Standard Control Organisation (CDSCO). But despite all this, the National Immunisation Technical Advisory Group (NITAG) has imposed restrictions. Its over-the-counter sales have also been stopped. This vaccine can also be given to all as a primary vaccine. It is a heterologous booster also," the TAC member said.

'54% households report viral symptoms'

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

AS per a recent survey by community platform LocalCircles, approximately 54% of households in Karnataka have reported one or more individuals experiencing viral or Covid-like symptoms such as fever, runny nose, sore throat, cough, headache, joint pain, and respiratory issues.

Karnataka has experienced a recent uptick in Covid cases, notably the JN.1 variant. Due to testing criteria focusing on severe symptoms, the official case counts may only partially reflect the actual situation, suggesting a higher prevalence of Covid cases than the government data reflects, which currently shows around 1,110 active cases in the entire state, the survey stated.

To ensure a comprehensive understanding, the government should scrutinise severe cases and fatalities and must conduct genome sequencing to identify any emerging variants, the report suggested.

The survey garnered responses from 3,000 registered residents, disclosing that 62% of respondents were men and 38% were women. Out of the respondents, 23% indicated that four or more people in their household exhibited symptoms, while another 23% reported 2-3 people with symptoms.

FOUR NEW COVID DEATHS IN STATE

An 82-year-old man with ILI and a 64-year-old man with SARI died on December 30 and January 1, respectively, in Bengaluru. A 60-year-old woman with SARI died on January 3 in Mysuru, while a 63-year-old mane with ILI died on January 2 in Dharwad.

Guard booked for setting 2 bikes, a house on fire

PRAVEEN KUMAR @ Bengaluru

THE Pulakeshinagar police are on the lookout for a security guard who allegedly set fire to two vehicles and a house in Cox Town. It is learnt that the suspect carried out the act, after he developed a grudge against a woman, whose husband's bike was primarily targeted in the incident.

The accused is identified as security guard Roshan Kumar Thakur, who is a resident of Cox Town. The police complaint against Thakur was filed by 38-year-old Tapas Chakraborti, a resident of 2nd cross on Kadirappa Road. Chakraborti is a food delivery agent, while his 34-year-old wife Monimala, is a cook.

Thakur had enmity with Monimala since the last one year, from when they were neighbours. Before her marriage to Chakraborti around six months ago, Monimala was staying on a different lane in the same area. Thakur, who was her neighbour then, would frequently trouble her in an inebriated state. She had even approached police against Thakur. The house owner, on learning about the harassment, had got Thakur to vacate the house too. After this, Thakur decided to retaliate.

Speaking to TNIE, Chakraborti stated that Thakur was troubling his wife. "Thakur was also posting derogatory messages about my wife on social media. Unable to bear the harassment, she had approached the police. Nursing a grudge against my wife, he poured petrol on my bike and set it on fire. The incident took place between 3.20 am and 3.50 am on Sunday. The complaint was filed on Tuesday evening. My bike has been completely destroyed. The fire also spread and burnt the windows and main doors of a house next door, owned by one C Mukundan. Another two-wheeler owned by one Illangovan has also been partially burnt. After checking CCTV footage in the vicinity, we discovered it was Thakur's handiwork," Chakraborti added. A case of mischief by fire under Section 435 of the IPC has been registered against the accused.

19-year-old engg student shoots self with dad's gun

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

A 19-year-old engineering student died by suicide, after allegedly shooting himself in the chest with his father's licensed Double-Barrel Breech Loading (DBBL) gun in Peenya police station limits.

The victim is identified as first semester engineering student Vishu Uthappa, a resident of Bhavaninagar near Madhanayakanahalli in Bengaluru North.

The incident reportedly occurred on Tuesday, after his parents left home to buy groceries, around 4 pm. They rushed back around 9 pm after the victim called his father and said that he will never commit any mistakes again.

On reaching home, the parents found Vishu lying in a pool of blood. He was immediately rushed to hospital, but failed to respond to treatment. The police have not found any death note.

Vishu was the only son of his parents. The police have learnt that he was having arguments with his mother over his studies. The exact reason behind the incident, however, is yet to be ascertained.

"The victim shot himself in the left side of his chest. The incident must have happened between 7.30 pm and 8 pm. There is no death note. There is nothing suspicious though," DCP (North) Saidulu Adavath said.

Vishu's father KD Thammayya is employed with the security department of NICE for the last seven years. The family hails from Mukkodlu village in Madikeri taluk of Kodagu district.

Datta Peetha case reopening is fake news: CM

Govt opened its 'shop of hate' in state: BJP

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

CHIEF Minister Siddaramaiah on Thursday took a dig at a section of media that telecast the news that the government had reopened an old case against a Hindu activist, with regard to the destruction of a grave at Bababudangiri hills in Chikkamagaluru.

With the news spreading like wildfire and the opposition BJP going hammer and tongs against the Congress government, terming it "anti-Hindu", the CM issued a statement, clarifying that it was false. "In some visual media, news that the case of destruction of a grave in Bababudangiri has been reopened is being circulated, which is wrong information and completely false news," he said.

Uploading certain documents pertaining to the case on social media, he pointed out that the case was registered in 2017, following which the government was requested for permission for hearing on March 19, 2020. The government had given permission on September 7, 2023, and on October 24, 2023, the chargesheet against the accused was submitted to court. Later, court issued summons to the accused to appear before it on January 8, as part of the legal process, he explained.

"It is a natural legal process with no government interference. The media should not spread false news and incite people that the state government is going to re-investigate the case. The possibility of the media losing its credibility, and the law and order situation deteriorating due to such false news coverage cannot be ruled out. The media should be careful," he suggested.

The BJP, meanwhile, has alleged that the government has opened its "shop of hate" in Karnataka, which is known for peace and prosperity.

"The Tughlaq government, which had reopened the 31-year-old case in Hubballi, has reopened the Datta Peetha case, which was closed. Dear CM @ siddaramaiah, our contempt for the anti-Hindu mentality of your dictatorship. Doing politics of hatred like this while holding a constitutional post is the height of abomination," it posted on X.

Opposition leader R Ashoka said the BJP will not tolerate the Congress government as it has revived the 1992 case and arrested a karsevak, besides the seven-year-old Datta Peetha case.

"This government is acting as if it is on the brink of destruction. By reopening the Datta peetha case, Congress leaders have again shown their hatred for Hindus..." remarked CT Ravi, former BJP national general secretary.

THE BJP in the state on Thursday launched 'I am a karsevak of Ayodhya Sri Ram temple, arrest me too' campaign to protest against the Congress government in the state for arresting a karsevak in a 32-year-old case in Hubballi.

Karkala MLA and BJP General Secretary V Sunil Kumar was detained by the Sadashivanagar police on Thursday morning for staging a solo protest sitting in front of the police station against the arrest of Srikant Pujari, a karsevak, in connection with a case lodged almost three decades ago in Hubballi during the Ram Janmabhoomi movement.

Kumar, a former minister, protested holding a placard which read 'I am a karsevak of Ayodhya Sri Ram temple, arrest me too.' The police took him into custody as he had not obtained prior permission for the protest.

The MLA sat for the protest amid chants of Jai Sri Ram by his followers.

Kumar said that the campaign has been launched statewide to condemn the Congress government for intimidating karsevaks and Ram devotees. He also added that Srikant Pujari is being portrayed as a criminal but the Mangaluru cooker bomb accused is labelled innocent. He expressed anger over some Congress leaders for writing to the government to set free the accused involved in the KJ Halli and DJ Halli riots.

STATEWIDE PROTEST AGAINST POOJARI'S ARREST

In response to the arrest of karsevak Srikant Poojari in a 32-year-old case in Hubballi recently, BJP leaders, including former ministers, protested across the state on Thursday. In Shivamogga, the police detained BJP workers when they tried to lay siege to the SP's office. Former DyCM KS Eshwarappa, MLA SN Channabasappa, MLC S Rudregowda, former MLC Bhanuprakash and others were detained. In Chikkamagaluru, former BJP national general secretary and ex-MLA C T Ravi staged a sit-in dharna in front of the town police station, amid the rain. Ravi launched a silent protest condemning Poojari's arrest.

'A TIGER THAT SAVED THE FORESTS'

K ULLAS KARANTH
Emeritus Director, Centre for Wildlife Studies

WILDLIFE conservationists sometimes decry all politicians as hostile to the cause. Yet, in my six decades advocating wildlife conservation, I have seen remarkable exceptions to this sentiment.

Any state forest minister has the potential to have a huge impact — either positive or negative — on conservation. However, the reality he or she faces is more complex if he or she is from the wildlife-rich Malnad region. His or her family, supporters and voters may face animal depredations, official restrictions on tree-felling, and curb on cattle grazing. Or they may lack access to roads, hospitals, schools, and other amenities. Often these impacts arise from legal actions necessary for wildlife recovery.

The funders and voters may expect their politicians to support forest encroachments, illegal forest product collection or even hunting.

On the other hand, politicians from the plains with so little area under forests these factors matter less — They can be far more effective as forest ministers. However, most of them view the forest portfolio as a burden to be shed rather than an opportunity to do good. My story is about an exceptional forest minister from the plains of Karnataka.

When I began interacting with the forest department in the1960s, national wildlife laws were weak. Hunting of predators for official rewards and of prey species for meat or 'crop protection' were rampant. Encroachments of forests were routinely "regularised" because the state forest minister had the legal power. Both official and illegal logging flourished.

At this critical juncture, the then Prime Minister Indira Gandhi turned out to be the visionary who responded to pleadings of conservationists. She rammed through strong wildlife and habitat protection laws. She also shrewdly compensated the state governments for the revenue they lost by releasing additional plan funds if they implemented her new laws.

Under her iron-fisted rule, the Karnataka Government did better than any other state to effectively implement the new conservation laws. This was largely because of a politician from Gadag district in the plains, who had reluctantly assumed the forest portfolio. He bore an apt nickname: Hulakotiya Huli (The Tiger from Hulakoti village). Short statured and built like a battle tank, Kishtagouda Hanumanthagouda Patil was a true force of nature. He turned out to be a force for nature too. He was a "dissident" against Indira's chosen Chief Minister Devaraj Urs. Yet Patil was able unleash a series of radical forest and wildlife conservation measures using the new laws.

Patil was a Gandhian, who rose from the cooperative moment. He was not only incorruptible, but also pugnacious, shrewd and savvy just as Gandhiji was!

Conservation impact Patil made, while holding charge of forests for less than four years, is truly incredible. Patil picked clean, competent forest officials ignoring political pressures.

During his early visits to the forests in Malnad with them, Patil was horrified by the ongoing destruction he saw all around. He acted promptly and aggressively. Patil surrendered his own legal power as a forest minister to "regularise" forest encroachments. This state law inspired Indira to enact the Forest Conservation Act a few years later.

Patil tasked his officials with creating a network Wildlife Protected Areas by upgrading smaller game reserves to Wildlife Sanctuaries, and by carving out entirely new areas out of the Reserved Forests.

Patil acted preemptively to abolish the populist, but highly destructive "pre-paid license system" which permitted thousands of villagers to routinely cut and remove timber forests on bullock carts or headloads. Under Patil's rule, forest encroachments by farmers as well as forest leases to plywood and mining industries were drastically curtailed.

Patil's leadership was the critical key to these remarkable nature recovery efforts in Karnataka.

Surprising as it seems now, they were executed efficiently by a modest forest department, which sported a single chief conservator, five conservators and a couple of dozen deputy conservators, who managed forests across the entire state!

Unfortunately, none of Patil's successors, over past four decades, appear to have imbibed the wisdom that underpinned his achievements.

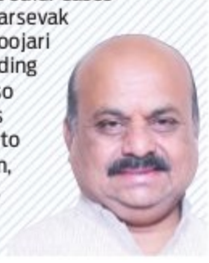
'Intelligence dept failure'

Former CM Basavaraj Bommai said that Home Minister Dr G Parameshwara's reaction that his department didn't have any information on Congress MLC B K Hariprasad's statement on karsevaks indicated a total failure of the intelligence department. That piece of information was known to the MLC but not to the intelligence department. Anyone else making such a statement would have been arrested, Bommai added. Congress leaders have accused the BJP of disturbing law and order in the State. In fact, the crime rate had increased during the incumbent government's tenure, he said. Cases against karsevak Srikant Poojari were pending in court, so what was the need to arrest him, he asked.



Parameshwara: No notice to Hariprasad over 'Godhra-like incident' statement

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

A day after senior Congress MLC and former Rajya Sabha member BK Hariprasad's "Godhra-like incident in Karnataka" statement triggered a row, Karnataka Home Minister Dr G Parameshwara said that there is no proposal before the Home Department to issue notice to the former seeking an explanation.

"If we start taking action solely based on statements, then we would end up issuing notices to a large number of people," Dr Parameshwara told reporters here.

Reacting to Hariprasad's statement, Parameshwara said that the government doesn't have any information. "If a situation like that rises then our department (police) is capable of handling it. We will not let such things happen," he said.

On Wednesday, Hariprasad had stoked a controversy claiming that there is a possibility of "Godhra-like incident" in Karnataka in the run-up to the consecration ceremony of Ram Mandir in Ayodhya

When pointed to Hariprasad's statement that he has information about a Godhra-like incident happening in Karnataka, including a meeting in Odisha, the minister said in case there is a need, information will be sought from Hariprasad. Parameshwara said as Hariprasad is a senior leader, he must have some information.

When asked if the Home Department will issue a notice to the senior MLC, Dr Parameshwara replied in negative. "This is a sensitive matter and our officials will look into it. We will handle it," he said.

On former MLA Dr Yathindra's statement that India cannot be made a Hindi Rashtra, the home minister said, "Daily one or the other person will be issuing some statement. I cannot answer every statement."

I AM LORD RAM'S DEVOTEE, SAYS CONGRESS MLA IQBAL

BENGALURU: Congress MLA from Ramanagara HA Iqbal Hussain on Thursday said he will celebrate 'Ramotsava' in the coming days. "We are committed to celebrating Ramotsava irrespective of caste, religion or political affiliations in a big way in my constituency," Hussain told reporters here. Stating that Lord Ram is his family God and he is his devotee, the legislator said, "We worship every God. When I was a student, we worshipped Saraswathi and Lakshmi and Ganesha. We also perform puje to Lord Ram." On the Ram Mandir in Ayodhya, the MLA slammed the BJP saying the saffron party was doing it to gain politically." Some people do something for their political gain but Congress never uses God and religion to divide people. Congress has an ideology, commitment and discipline, which I follow," Hussain said, adding that Lord Ram is an emotion and not a commodity. "Our house has a puja room and we have Lord Ram in it. We don't indulge in politics using religion," he added.

Min Rajanna once again bats for 3 more DyCMs

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Tumakuru

COOPERATION Minister KN Rajanna on Thursday has brought the issue of appointing three more deputy chief ministers in Karnataka to the fore once again.

"I still stand by what I said earlier. Three more DyCMs should be appointed to give representation to communities to ensure social justice," the minister told reporters here. He further went on to state that the BJP has appointed more than one DyCM in the three states where it won recently.

He was speaking on the sidelines of a meeting organised to review the government's schemes ahead of Chief Minister Siddaramaiah's visit to Tumakuru on January 29. The meeting was also attended by Home Minister Dr G Parameshwara, who is also Tumakuru district minister.

"Ministers Parameshwara and Satish Jarkiholi have also spoken about the need for more DyCMs in the past. But the Congress high command has directed us not to discuss this in public. But considering the political developments after the results of the Assembly polls held in five states recently, Karnataka needs three more DyCMs," he added. Leaders from those communities that backed the Congress should be made DyCMs in Karnataka, he said.

'K'taka model' on menu in AICC manifesto meet

DEVARAJ B HIREHALLI
@ Bengaluru

KARNATAKA Chief Minister Siddaramaiah took part in a crucial AICC manifesto committee meeting for the upcoming Lok Sabha elections in New Delhi on Thursday.

The meeting, which was chaired by former Union Minister P Chidambaram, also discussed the guarantees implemented by the Karnataka government and if the same strategy should be part of the Congress manifesto for the Lok Sabha elections. The meeting also discussed the Congress' Bharat Nyay Yatra to be taken out between Manipur and Maharashtra by party MP Rahul Gandhi.

Siddaramaiah presented his views and the effective implementation of the guarantees in Karnataka, said an informed source.

"Though it was not a Karnataka-specific meeting, the leaders discussed formulating a manifesto that will appeal to the electorate across India. But the Karnataka and Telangana model, as Congress won both the states on the promise of the guarantees, were discussed," the source added.

A separate meeting was chaired by Congress president Mallikarjun Kharge in which CLP leaders and PCC presidents from different states participated. The procedure to select candidates, fielding party heavyweights to improve the chances of winning and a comprehensive strategy to tackle BJP over religious issues were discussed in the meeting. Siddaramaiah and DyCM DK Shivakumar gave their inputs. The party's preparedness in Karnataka was also discussed as ministers who worked as observers had already submitted their report on all the 28 seats with a list of probable candidates. "The high command's meeting is like a precursor to the meeting with ministers and legislators Shivakumar has called on January 10. Siddaramaiah and Shivakumar are likely to pass on the message of the top brass to them," a Congress leader told TNIE.

Meanwhile, a few ministers of the Siddaramaiah cabinet who are likely to be fielded have started their groundwork. Ministers Eshwar Khandre and Rahim Khan, who have been shortlisted for Bidar seat, will hold a meeting on January 8 to discuss with local Congress leaders, a source said.

Meanwhile, minister KH Muniyappa, who too camped in the national capital, has also sent feelers about his preparedness to contest the Lok Sabha polls.

Meanwhile, there was no discussion on appointments to boards and corporations.

Aadhaar link for drought relief lame excuse: Ex-CM

BENGALURU: The State Government has been giving the lame excuse of Aadhaar linkage for disbursement of drought relief. Already, 69 lakh bank accounts of farmers are linked to Aadhaar, but Chief Minister Siddaramaiah is using this to cover up the State's economic condition, former CM Basavaraj Bommai told reporters here on Thursday. The government had committed to Rs 2,000 payout in the winter session but is now insisting on Aadhaar linkage. It should immediately credit Rs 2,000 in the accounts of farmers, he added. He said that most of the taluks in Karnataka have been declared drought-hit, and both kharif and rabi crops have failed. So far, the government hasn't released any money and work hasn't started. The agriculture department has predicted a fall in food production, but no precautions are being taken, and instead, the State government is pointing fingers at the Centre for everything. The previous governments distributed compensation to farmers without waiting for funds from the Centre. ENS

Pocso victim's mom, sister chased out of village in Tamil Nadu

SARAVANAN MP @Tiruppur

JUST days after a landlord and a government nurse were arrested in a Pocso case for rape and abortion, the minor victim's mother and sister were chased out of the village by locals for "bringing disrepute to the village".

On December 29, police arrested the 55-year-old man for sexually assaulting a minor girl repeatedly and a nurse attached to Dharapuram Government Hospital for aborting her pregnancy.

Victim's elder sister said, "After the police arrested the two, my sister was sent to a children's shelter in Dharapuram. When neighbours and villagers began to question us, we narrated our ordeal. However, they refused to believe us and instead of helping us, they started arguing and beating us. We were already under emotional stress and unable to face such humiliation. They also said that we had brought disrepute to the entire community and the village. They thrashed us and chased us out of the village."

The victim's uncle said, "Though the girl's sister and mother are safe in my house for the past few days, the person who was the mediator between the landlord and the nurse, is absconding. His elder brother traced us and is forcing us to withdraw the case."

Tamil Nadu Untouchability Eradication Front district secretary (Tiruppur) CK Kanagaraj said, "Police aren't coordinating and are also refusing to help. Local police are yet to give the FIR copy, and we are unable to offer legal support."

Sharmila joins Congress, gears up for LS elections

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Vijayawada/Hyderabad

AFTER protracted negotiations, YSR Telangana Party (YSRTP) president and daughter of the late YS Rajasekhara Reddy on Thursday merged her party with the Congress and declared her readiness to work for the grand old party, whether in Andhra Pradesh or the Andamans.

Sharmila, sister of YSRC chief and Andhra Pradesh Chief Minister YS Jagan Mohan Reddy, joined the Congress-fold in the presence of party president Mallikarjun Kharge and former president Rahul Gandhi at the AICC headquarters in New Delhi.

Her move comes in the wake of the Congress victory in the recent Assembly elections in Telangana and breathes new life into the party that was uprooted in Andhra Pradesh following the division of the state in 2014.Speaking on the occasion, Sharmila was effusive in her praise of the Congress.

YS Sharmila joins Congress in presence of AICC president Mallikarjun Kharge in New Delhi on Thursday | EXPRESS

"Today, I am very happy to be merging YSRTP into the Congress party. It gives me immense joy that the YSRTP is going to be a part of the Indian National Congress from today onwards," she said, adding that the Congress is still the largest secular party in the country. Recalling her father's desire to see Rahul Gandhi as the prime minister, she said she would work towards realising his dream like a soldier of the party.

Sharmila's entry into the Congress was long-expected and she had in fact endorsed the party in the Telangana Assembly elections. To queries from journalists on her role in the Congress, Sharmila replied that everything would be clear in a couple of days. Highly-placed sources told TNIE that she could be made president of the Andhra Pradesh Congress Committee. It appears that she has made upher mind to do the party's bidding and take any role offered to her. AICC incharge for AP Manickam Tagore and APCC chief Gidugu Rudra Raju were among those present. Veteran Congress leaders in AP are elated with Sharmila 'coming home' as they see in her a 'weapon' to revive the party in the state.

Political circles are abuzz with speculation that Sharmila could dent the prospects of her brother's bid to win elections for the second time in a row.

Demand for withdrawing cases against activists

ENS @Bengaluru

KARNATAKA Jala Samrakshana Samiti, which consists of farmers leaders, Kannada activists, and educationalists, has accused the State Government of trying to suppress the agitations by Kannada activists, farmers, anganwadi workers, and guest lecturers. Before coming to power, CM Siddaramaiah used to speak about protests as an important part of democracy, but now his government is suppressing them, the samiti said.

Samiti leader Kuruburu Shantakumar said suppressing the protests by people fighting for language, land, and water is an anti-people move. "The government agencies that are responsible for the implementation of the use of Kannada have become inactive. Instead of ensuring that those agencies work efficiently, the government is suppressing the protests," he said.

He urged the CM to take measures to immediately release arrested activists and withdraw false cases booked against them. Shantakumar said the CM should call a meeting of leaders of all associations to discuss the issue.

Bharat Nyay Yatra: Rahul to cover 4 Odisha dists

Gandhi will be in Odisha for four days during which he will cover 341 kms. The yatra will mainly be on buses with short stints of padayatras.

BBC, Discovery, Netflix to face contempt for violating interim order

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

THE High Court of Karnataka on January 8 will frame charges for contempt of court against 10 accused, including BBC (UK), Discovery and Netflix, for airing the film 'Wild Karnataka' or 'India's Wild Karnataka', violating an interim order passed, restraining them from telecasting the film.

The accused are Sarath Champati, Kalyan Varma, Amoghavarsha J S, Wild Karnataka, Mudskipper Labs Private Limited, Icon Films Ltd., ITV Studios Global Distribution Ltd., Discovery Communications India, British Broadcasting Corporation (BBC), United Kingdom, and Netflix Entertainment Services India LLP.

"We are only considering the prima facie case to direct the accused to answer the charge. The material on record shows that even after the interim order, the footage was in the air, no matter broadcast by whom. To record a precise finding with regard to the involvement of the accused, a trial is necessary.

In our opinion, there is sufficient material on record to frame charges against the accused," a division bench of Justice P S Dinesh Kumar and Justice T G Shivashankare Gowda said, after hearing a civil contempt petition filed by Ravindra N Redkar and Ullash Kumar R K on Thursday, while posting the matter to January 8 for framing of charges.

The contempt petition was filed for violating an interim order passed by court, restraining Sarath Champati, Kalyan Varma, Amoghavarsha, Wild Karnataka and Mudskipper and anyone claiming under or through them from using, publishing, reproducing, broadcasting, telecasting, marketing, selling, distributing, exhibiting or in any way dealing with the film or raw footage captured by Sarath, Kalyan Varma and Amoghavarsha and their team under the MoU dated November 3, 2014, with the Karnataka forest department.

The interim order dated June 29, 2021, was passed after hearing the petition filed by Ravindra N Redkar and Ullash Kumar, contending that though the film was intended to be on a non-profit basis to promote conservation and for educational purpose, Sarath, Kalyan Varma and Amoghavarsha commercially sold it for profit without the knowledge or approval of the KFD, and the film was distributed in over 100 countries to airlines, broadcasters, networks, channels, streaming partners and theatres.

They also alleged that three persons had pocketed millions of rupees without remitting any amount towards the Tiger Reserve Fund. KFD officials waived all shooting fees and deposits and the state's vehicles and drivers were utilised. Boarding and lodging were also given at forest resthouses for free.

NEED TO TREAD CAUTIOUSLY ON PLAN TO CLOSE N-E BORDER

THE raging turmoil in Manipur has drawn the Union government's attention towards India's Free Movement Regime with Myanmar. Some sections of the central and state governments have blamed cross-border insurgents for the ethnic violence in Manipur, which is one of the four states that share the 1,643-km India-Myanmar border. The other three states are Mizoram, Nagaland and Arunachal Pradesh. The Kuki-Chin-Zo and Naga tribes living on the India-Myanmar border have familial, social and business ties across the border. Members of these tribes have moved freely across the largely porous border for ages. India and Myanmar had formalised border transit by signing a Free Movement Regime, which allows a person from one country to travel up to 16 km in the other country and live there for two weeks without a visa. But with the rise of insurgency on both sides and sharp increase in smuggling of goods, drugs and arms, fencing has been erected at some places along the border. Besides smuggling, there has been a rise in insurgency on both sides. Rebel groups in Myanmar have taken control of towns in Myanmar close to the border; this has resulted in a huge influx of Myanmarese army personnel who have taken refuge in India.

The ethnic violence in Manipur that resulted in loss of hundreds of lives has proved to be the proverbial last straw after the mounting border troubles. The Manipur chief minister has openly accused insurgents from across the border for the trouble in his state. The Kuki minority of Manipur shares ethnic ties with the Mizos of Mizoram and the Chin people of Myanmar. There are now reports that the Union government is planning to scrap the Free Movement Regime and fence the border as much as possible.

Though it is important to check the cross-border movement of insurgents, smugglers and other undesirable elements, the government will have to tread cautiously on the issue of banning free movement of ordinary law-abiding people. A comprehensive plan needs to be prepared in consultation with the other bordering states—Mizoram, Nagaland and Arunachal Pradesh—to ensure the desired results. The newly-elected Mizoram Chief Minister, Lalduhoma, has already voiced his opposition to fencing the border and checking the free movement of people. He said the British had divided the lands of the ethnic Mizos and they cannot be separated by a fence now.

BJP CHRISTIAN CONNECT AFFECTS KERALA BALANCE

KERALA witnessed a grand Narendra Modi show the other day when the prime minister addressed over 2 lakh women in Thrissur, the state's cultural capital. The meet—organised by the state BJP unit as a "grand reception for the PM after the passage of the women's reservation bill"—was attended by women from all walks—from anganwadi workers and teachers to nurses and celebrities. The atmosphere was charged with chants of "Modi, Modi" and "Bharat mata ki jai", both alien to Kerala's political framework. The PM, as expected, used the opportunity to drive the point that both the LDF and the UDF are failures as far as state's interests are concerned and that BJP should be given a chance.

The function ticked all the boxes except the achievement list rolled out by the PM aimed at women. The claims of drinking water connections, toilet construction and Suvidha sanitary napkin projects will not make much impact in Kerala, which has achieved all these and more years ahead. But the greatest takeaway from his 40-minute speech was his special assurance to the Christian community. While underlining BJP's commitment to their welfare, PM Modi gave the example of his party's victories in the Northeast as proof. "Very old, very close and very warm"—this was how Modi had described his relations with the Christian community during an interaction with its leaders at his residence last week; it was no coincidence that the dignitaries were mostly from Kerala.

The BJP, which has not been able to open its state account except for a lone assembly seat in 2016, knows too well that the Christian community could be a gateway to break that jinx. The community—which accounts for 18 percent of the state's population and is powerful politically and financially beyond its numbers—has been a strong vote bank for the Congress. With the Congress's powers waning in the state, a section of the community had shifted to the Left; but that relationship is fraught with inherent contradictions. The BJP senses an opportunity here. After the recent assembly results, the Christian community's mood is quite favourable to the BJP. But to translate that into votes, the party will have to have a credible state leadership. If that and a few strong candidates are put in place, the BJP will certainly have an unprecedented opportunity in the state in the near future.

QUICK TAKE

SAFETY FIRST FOR NEPAL PLANS

INDIA signed a power trade agreement with Nepal on Thursday to import 10,000 MW of hydroelectricity over the next decade. India, which has a short-term electricity trading deal with its neighbour, is in various stages of constructing or negotiating on plants that would produce a total of 8,250 MW. This is an economic win-win for the two countries and a diplomatic win for India. The main resource for this power play, Nepal's rivers, often causes devastating floods in Bihar and Uttar Pradesh. We saw in 2023 the havoc irresponsibly constructed infrastructure in Himachal, Uttarakhand and Sikkim caused. The upcoming projects in Nepal must learn from those Himalayan blunders.

The new criminal laws go against some established jurisprudence and reaffirmed verdicts. They hand the police disturbing discretionary powers over citizens' rights

DELETERIOUS INTENT TO DISRUPT AND DECEIVE

MANISH TEWARI

Member of parliament, lawyer and former Union I&B minister

SOUMYADIP SINHA

THE arbitrary, malafide and capricious suspension of 146 members of parliament midwifed into existence, without any informed critique, three draconian criminal laws. The Bharatiya Nyaya Sanhita (BNS) replaces the Indian Penal Code, Bharatiya Nagrik Suraksha Sanhita (BNSS) substitutes the Criminal Procedure Code (CRPC), and Bharatiya Sakshya Adhiniyam (BSA) will now stand in for the Indian Evidence Act.

For over a century and a half, thousands of judges from the subordinate judiciary to the Supreme Court have applied the existing laws assisted by over 15 lakh lawyers, a bulk of whom practice on the criminal side. This has created a vast body of criminal jurisprudence. Moreover, the provisions of criminal law such as first information report or FIR, anticipatory bail, police custody, cheating and even murder are well-known to every common citizen even in the remotest part of the country. The new laws are therefore unnecessarily and deleteriously disruptionist in their very conception.

The new laws will be implemented in 17,379 police stations across the country by a police force whose mindset is rooted in coercion and intimidation, governed as they are by the colonial Police Act of 1861.

Out of the 511 provisions in the IPC, only 24 sections have been deleted and 23 added fresh. The rest have been just renumbered in the new BNS. All the 170 sections of the Evidence Act have been retained in the new BSA, just renumbered. Some 95 percent of the CrPC has been cut, copied and pasted as the new BNSS.

Law is not merely about provisions, it is about substantive interpretation. Each provision of the existing laws—IPC, CrPC and Evidence Act—is settled by judicial pronouncements of courts ranging from the presidency courts, the Privy Council, the various pre- and post-independence high courts, the old Federal Court and its successor, the Supreme Court of India.

The criminal justice machinery is set in motion with the registration of an FIR. A five-judge Constitution bench of the Supreme Court in 2013 held that FIR registration is mandatory under Section 154 of the CrPC if the information discloses commission of a cognisable offence and no preliminary inquiry is permissible in such a situation.

Section 173 (3) of the BNSS now makes the registration of an FIR discretionary if the punishment is for an offence where the punishment ranges from 3 to 7 years. One of the debilitating consequences of this new provision, given that power equations are asymmetric, would be that the poor, marginalised, disadvantaged and disempowered sections of society would not be able get even an FIR automatically registered now.

The second disturbing provision of the new law is Section 187 (3) of the BNSS. The provision is so ambiguously worded that, at first brush, it seems to expand police custody from 15 days to 60-90 days, depending upon the nature of the alleged offence. However, a closer read shows what it does is equally insidious. It allows investigative agencies to seek police custody of an accused upto a maximum period of 15 days at any time during the total period of custody of 60-90 days, depending upon the nature of the offence.

What this entails is the moment an accused applies for bail during those 60-90 days and even if he clears the triple test for bail, the investigating officer can stymie his or her liberty by asking for police custody for further investigation. The bottomline is that an accused would be mandatorily in police or judicial custody for 60-90 days at least under the new law. This provides a carte blanche for arbitrariness, arbitrage and rent-seeking.

The third controversial provision is Section 43 (3) of the BNSS that brings back handcuffs. In 1979, the Supreme Court in Sunil Batra vs Delhi Administration banned handcuffs, only allowing its use in a minuscule category of cases. This was reiterated by the apex court in the Prem Shankar Shukla case in 1980. The new law expands the power of the police to use handcuffs with little or no restrictions. This again goes against the rulings of the Supreme Court and shall have a pervasive impact on the right to basic human dignity of an accused or an undertrial.

The fourth ominous provision is the rebranding of Section 124-A—the prince among the political sections of the IPC, namely sedition—through Section 152 of the BNS. This new provision criminalises five kinds of activities, namely subversive activities, secession, separatist activity endangering the sovereignty, unity and integrity of India, and armed rebellion. There is, however, no finely-honed legal definition of these terms. It would provide wide latitude to the the police and political establishment to persecute anyone without restraint and accountability.

The fifth scandalous provision is that fasting as a form of of social and political protest would now be a criminal offence. Clause 226 of the BNS provides, "Whoever attempts to commit suicide with the intent to compel or restrain any public servant from discharging his official duty shall be punished with one year imprisonment, fine or both, or community service." Recall that fasting was the non-violent weapon of choice recurrently used by Mahatma Gandhi to overthrow the yoke of British imperialism.

The sixth contentious provision of the new law is the inclusion of terrorism under Section 113 of the BNS. The second iteration of the BNS brings the definition of terrorism in line with Section 15 of the Unlawful Activities (Prevention) Act or UAPA. This results in the creation of two separate laws to deal with the same offence. Moreover, since the UAPA was already created as a special law designed to deal with terrorism, there is no rationale to again reproduce it under BNS, a general law, except that it can now be weaponised as an instrument of intimidation in the pantheon of general criminal laws.

Finally, the new laws add three more capital punishments and six life sentences despite the Law Commission's recommendations to abolish capital punishment and the Supreme Court's guidelines to hand down capital punishment in only the 'rarest of rare cases'. In the previous six years, the Supreme Court has upheld the death penalty in only seven instances.

The list of infirmities in the new laws is endless. A future government or parliament would need to re-examine the very constitutionality and raison d'ëtre of these criminal laws.

B20 INDIA PAVES WAY FOR INCLUSIVE GLOBAL ECONOMY

CHANDRAJIT BANERJEE

Director General, Confederation of Indian Industry

THE Business 20 (B20) group has risen to prominence as a global business platform that plays a crucial role in shaping policies. Within the G20, the B20 stands out as one of the most influential engagement groups, facilitating meaningful dialogues between the international business community, G20 decision-makers, and governments.

B20's inception goes back to 2010, when it was first constituted under the South Korean G20 presidency, from when the Confederation of Indian Industry has had the opportunity to participate and represent Indian businesses. Since then, B20 has been providing a stage for business leaders from G20 economies to discuss issues of global economic and trade governance, ideate on solutions to pressing economic challenges, and provide policy recommendations for G20 governments to consider. Over the years, as we continue to represent Indian businesses in the B20, we have been witnessing the group gain in strength and visibility.

The current geopolitical uncertainties have posed significant challenges to the nascent, post-pandemic economic recovery. India took over the G20 presidency at a time global businesses were going through turbulence caused by the pandemic, disruptions to global value chains, and extreme climate events. These called for a revitalised corporate impetus.

The G20 India theme, 'One Earth, One Family, One Future', underscored the importance of resilient business systems and practices in the face of uncertainties. B20 India, hosted by the CII as the B20 India secretariat, seized the opportunity to focus on amplifying the voices of developing countries. B20 India's core principles, guided through the overarching theme of RAISE—responsible, accelerated, innovative, sustainable and equitable businesses—guided the deliberations throughout the course of B20 India for fostering a strong, resilient, and equitable global economy.

Through the B20 India platform, we worked towards redefining the global economic environment and forming clear, precise, timely, and necessary recommendations to address shared concerns. Under the leadership of N Chandrasekaran, chair of B20 India, a diverse team of business leaders and experts collaborated through seven task forces and two action councils. With the participation of a wide range of businesses representing 35+ countries and participation from more than 25 sectors, B20 India strengthened international cooperation and evolved concrete partnerships over the year of India's presidency. Cumulatively, this inclusive approach involved approximately 1,500 members from all G20 members and invitee countries, along with numerous stakeholders globally. The year-long process received invaluable support from the international advisory caucus.

PTI

B20 India chair N Chandrasekaran announced the establishment of a global institute that would advise enterprises and ensure a continuity of priorities. The institute would aim to foster innovation and promote sustainability

B20 India's impact extended beyond formal deliberations, with over 110 policy advocacy and outreach initiatives gathering more than 20,000 delegates to disseminate key messages. The B20 task forces and action councils dedicated meticulous efforts to develop actionable recommendations across various themes, leading to groundbreaking ideas and solutions. These diligent efforts have yielded results as showcased in nine policy reports. As a result, B20 India formulated 54 recommendations and 172 policy enablers through its task forces and action councils, nearly 80 percent of which have been considered and adopted by the G20.

Notable accomplishments included the study of accelerating services trade and enhancing technology in trade, the rollout of digital public infrastructure, and the promotion of digital trust through harmonising cybersecurity standards. Recommendations also addressed the sustainability and climate change imperative, focusing on net-zero transition, common ESG reporting standards, and harmonised international carbon markets.

Looking ahead, B20 India outlined three key initiatives for the coming years including the establishment of a B20 Global Institute, which would provide knowledge, research and policy advocacy to global enterprises, ensuring a continuation of priorities. The institute, led by businesses, will focus on building resilient global value chains, leveraging digital innovations and AI for social good, fostering innovation, sustainability, energy transition, and promoting ESG principles and inclusion. It will collaborate with businesses globally to drive new opportunities.

Another outcome was accelerating financial support for decarbonisation efforts in the Global South, aligning with India's focus during its G20 presidency. This initiative aims to develop strategies and address financing for hard-to-abate sectors to advance decarbonisation.

B20 India also recommended the establishment of a Global SDG Acceleration Fund or GSAF, a global multi-donor fund facilitating private sector participation in funding progress towards the UN's sustainable development goals (SDGs) in developing economies. GSAF aims to bridge the SDG financing gap by bringing together governments, the private sector, and philanthropies, leveraging credit enhancement tools and blended finance.

Through these efforts, B20 India represented a collective aspiration for a sustainable, resilient, and inclusive global economy. Building on the work of previous B20 deliberations, it set a new agenda for a transformative future. We believe that the commitment, collaboration, and visionary thinking of stakeholders involved in B20 India have paved the way for a brighter and more equitable future for the world.

Congress renames Rahul-led yatra

Spanning 6,713 km, the East-to-West march will traverse 15 states, including Arunachal

PREETHA NAIR @ New Delhi

THE Congress on Thursday renamed the Rahul Gandhi-led East to West march as the 'Bharat Jodo Nyay Yatra,' set to commence from Manipur on January 14. Previously, the yatra was known as the "Bharat Nyay Yatra." The party has extended an invitation to all members of the INDIA bloc to join the yatra at any point along its route.

Spanning 6,713 km, the yatra will traverse 15 states, including Arunachal Pradesh. Notably, the 66-day journey will spend its longest duration — 11 days — in Uttar Pradesh, a politically crucial state that contributes the most MPs to Parliament. The Congress aims to improve its performance in Uttar Pradesh, where it secured only one seat in the 2019 Lok Sabha elections. The yatra will journey through 1,074km across 20 districts of the state. In Assam, participants will cover 833km in 17 districts over eight days.

AICC leader Jairam Ramesh, speaking with the media, explained that the term "Jodo" was included to emulate the impact of the initial Bharat Jodo Yatra from Kanyakumari to Jammu and Kashmir. This decision, along with other details, was finalised in a three-hour meeting led by Mallikarjun Kharge and attended by AICC general secretaries, state incharges, state chiefs, and Congress Legislature Party (CLP) leaders, Ramesh noted.

Ramesh said, "Gandhi's Yatra is fundamentally about justice, aiming to achieve political, economic, and social justice for the people of India."

Addressing the participation of INDIA bloc parties in the yatra, Ramesh stated, "The Bharat Jodo Nyay Yatra is open to everyone. We invite INDIA alliance parties, Congress-aligned parties from various states, and civil society organizations to participate." When questioned about the Aam Aadmi Party (AAP)'s involvement, he confirmed that all INDIA bloc members, including AAP and Arvind Kejriwal, have been invited.

He further mentioned that the yatra will proceed both by buses and on foot, covering approximately 110 districts, around 100 Lok Sabha constituencies, and 337 assembly segments. Ramesh asserted that the Bharat Jodo Nyay Yatra would be as politically transformative as the previous Bharat Jodo Yatra.

"The concept of 'Nyay' derives from the preamble of the Indian Constitution, which promises justice—social, economic, and political—to all its citizens," Ramesh elaborated. He added that liberty, equality, and fraternity are deeply interconnected principles.

Ramesh recalled that during the Bharat Jodo Yatra, Gandhi highlighted major concerns such as increasing inequality, escalating social polarization, and rising political tyranny and authoritarianism. The solution, he suggested, lies in ensuring justice for the people.

The yatris will spend five days in West Bengal and eight days in Jharkhand. The schedule includes a one-day stop in Manipur and four days each in Bihar and Odisha.

Ahead of polls, BJP sends top leaders to head party fronts

RAJESH KUMAR THAKUR
@ New Delhi

AHEAD of the 2024 LS elections, the BJP has appointed some senior leaders in charge of the party's various 'morchas' (fronts) to give a push to the party's outreach across the country. The appointments were notified late on Wednesday evening after consultations between party chief JP Nadda and other top senior functionaries with an eye to the LS polls.

Prominent among those appointed as in-charges of party's Morcha'(fronts) are the appointments of Sunil Bansal as in-charge of the BJP Yuva Morcha, Bandi Sanjay as in-charge of Kisan Morcha and Vinod Tawde, in-charge of the OBC Morcha.

A detailed discussion reportedly took place last month at two meetings of the party's national office-bearers with PM Modi, Home Minister Amit Shah and party chief JP Nadda. "Those meetings set the tone for the next elections. The chiefs of all the seven fronts came out with feedback and observations of their outreaches. The imperative to appoint in-charges was felt and approved to take the party closets to its LS target of seats", remarked a BJP source.

Getting ready for polls months ahead

A detailed discussion reportedly took place last month at two meetings of the party's national office-bearers with Prime Minister Narendra Modi, Home Minister Amit Shah and party chief JP Nadda. "Those meetings set the tone for the next elections. The party is geared up to face any challenge," said a party source.

Those who have been appointed in charge hold considerable influence in various communities. Their appointments are aimed at giving a further push to party's outreach across the country for the LS polls

Senior party leader

Sources on Thursday said the appointments of seasoned and experienced leaders as in charge of several fronts were decided based on their organizational skills. "Those who have been appointed in charge hold considerable influence in various communities, being represented by their fronts. Their appointments are aimed at giving a further push to the party's outreach across the country for LS polls", remarked a senior BJP functionary.

After Sunil Bansal, Vinod Tawde and Bandi Sanjay, Tarun Chugh has been appointed in charge of the SC Morcha, Radha Mohan Das Aggarwal in charge of the ST Morcha and Dushyant Gautam as in charge of the Minority Morcha.

Sources said appointed incharges have also been assigned the task of taking the party's poll slogans like 'Teesri Baar Modi Sarkar, Aab ki baar 400 paar' and ' Modi Ki guarantee' to the people living in remote areas. Sunil Bansal, appointed in charge of the BJP Yuva Morcha, is national secretary of the party and in charge of West Bengal, Odisha and Telangana. Vinod Tawde is also the national general secretary, who calls himself a 'believer of developmental politics'.

Transformed & stronger India a new geopolitical factor: Chinese scholar

YESHI SELI @ New Delhi

INDIA is indeed a major power, and the rapid changes in its internal and external strategies pose challenges to both itself and the international community. "It appears that a transformed, stronger, and more assertive India has become a new geopolitical factor that many countries need to consider," says Zhang Jiadong, Director of the Centre for South Asian Studies at Fudan University, China. Jiadong expressed these views in an opinion piece he wrote for the Global Times on January 2.

Jiadong based his observations on his visits to India. "During the trips, I found that India's domestic and foreign situations have changed tremendously compared to four years ago. India has achieved outstanding results in economic development and social governance, and its great power strategy has moved from dream to reality. However, potential risks and crises have also begun to unfold," Jiadong wrote.

India is on its way to becoming one of the fastest-growing major economies, and its attitude towards Chinese scholars has become more relaxed and moderate, rather than being as stubborn as before, wrote Jiadong. "For example, when discussing the trade imbalance between China and India, Indian scholars used to primarily focus on China's measures to reduce the trade imbalance. But now, they are placing more emphasis on India's export potential, actively seeking to reduce the trade deficit with China by taking the initiative and increasing Chinese imports from India," the writer observed in his opinion piece.

India, Nepal sign power trade agreement

SC refuses to quash criminal proceedings

SUCHITRA KALYAN MOHANTY
@ New Delhi

THE Supreme Court on Thursday refused to quash criminal cases registered against senior Congress leader Pawan Khera for his alleged remark against Prime Minister Narendra Modi.

Solicitor General (SG) Tushar Mehta, representing the Uttar Pradesh government, said the charge sheet was ready, and thereby the trial must proceed in the case against the party spokesperson and senior leader.

Although the two-judge bench headed by Justice B R Gavai and also comprising Justice Sandeep Mehta noted that the accused had repeatedly apologised in other defamation matters, but refused to quash the criminal cases against him. "An offence cannot be wished away," the bench said, and remarked, anyways now you go on apologising."

Rejecting Khera's appeal, the bench said, "Anyway, sorry, we are not inclined. We are not passing any interim relief at this stage in the matter," Justice Gavai said.

Calcutta HC order on adolescent girls wrong: SC

SUCHITRA KALYAN MOHANTY
@ New Delhi

The Supreme Court on Thursday criticised parts of the Calcutta High Court's controversial order advising adolescent girls to "control sexual urges", and said that such judgements were "absolutely wrong" and "send out wrong signal".

Appearing for West Bengal government, senior advocate Huzefa Ahmadi told the court that the state has also filed an appeal against the high court order. "The appeal was listed today before another bench of this court. That bench unfortunately could not sit," he said.

On October 18, a division bench of the Calcutta HC headed by Justice Chitta Ranjan Dash had advised young girls and boys to rein in sexual urges. It had made the observations while acquitting a man who was earlier convicted by a lower court for raping a minor girl with whom he had a "romantic affair". Today, during the course of the hearing, a two-judge bench of the top court headed by Justice Abhay S Oka and comprising Justice Ujjal Bhuyan, expressed its concern on the manner in which judges were invoking their inherent powers under Section 482 of the Code of Criminal Procedure (CrPC) in making such observations.

"It is not only about observations. See the kind of findings," it observed, adding, "Writing such judgements is absolutely wrong... What kind of principles the judges have invoked," the court remarked.

Section 482 of the CrPC stated that criminal proceedings can be quashed in exercise of powers under this section, when it is found that the attempt was to give a "cloak of criminal offence" to a dispute which is essentially of civil nature.

Advocate Ahmadi said the state too was of the opinion that the high court's observations were "wrong."

While fixing the matter for further hearing on January 12, the apex court stated that it would hear both the state's appeal and suo motu case together on the day.

Terming the observations of the judges "highly objectionable and completely unwarranted," the court observed that the sweeping remarks by the HC was prima facie uncalled for.

The court took suo motu cognisance of the HC's order passed in last December and decided to hear it.

The top court, which had initiated a suo motu writ petition in the matter, had observed that judges are not expected to "preach" while writing judgements.

Senior Advocate Madhavi Divan, appointed as amicus curiae (Friend of the court) in the case, expressed serious concern over the judgment passed by the High Court, and told the apex court that the HC's observation was wrong as the question of sexual activity between adolescents did not arise at all. In fact, the man was not an adolescent at the time in this particular case.

The Supreme Court has granted bail to 13 persons accused in connection with the killing of a political leader during the 2021 West Bengal election-related violence. The order of the apex court was uploaded today in the Supreme Court website. A two-judge bench of the Supreme Court, headed by Justice JK Maheshwari and also comprising Justice Sidhanshu Dhulia delivered the judgment, keeping in view the fact that the accused are fully cooperating with the Central Bureau of Investigation, making imprisonment unnecessary.

Judge recuses from blast case hearing

Revised rules for allocation of party symbols

PARVEZ SULTAN @ New Delhi

WITH only a few weeks remaining until the 2024 Parliamentary election, the Election Commission of India has revised rules for allocating common symbols to Registered and Unregistered Political Parties, subject to certain conditions. On Thursday, the ECI announced that RUPPs which have submitted their contribution reports and audited annual accounts for the past three financial years, as well as election expenditure statements for their last two contested elections, will be eligible for 'concession of common symbol allotment'.

The Commission also noted that it is receiving applications from parties in question, following the prescribed proforma for the allocation of common symbols, in accordance with the Election Symbols (Reservation & Allotment) Order, 1968.

A newly registered party, a political group that has not attained a certain vote percentage or general elections to be recognised as a state/national party, or one that has not contested elections since its registration, are considered RUPPs.

Only processing charges to be levied for procuring blood in hospitals: Govt

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

HOSPITALS and blood banks can only charge processing fees for blood as the government has now decided to do away with all other fees to check the practice of overcharging. In a communication to all states and UT drugs controllers cum licensing authorities, the Drugs Controller General of India (DCGI) said that the decision was taken in view of the opinion that "blood is not for sale".

Referring to the 62nd meeting of the Drugs Consultative Committee held on September 26, 2023, the DCGI in the letter on December 26 said, "It was recommended with respect of agenda No. 18 of ATR point 3, for overcharging of blood, it was opined that blood is not for sale, it is only for supply and only processing cost may be charged by the blood centre."

The revised guidelines now stipulate that only processing fees can be charged for blood or blood components, which ranges from ₹250 to ₹1,550 for blood or blood components.

The DCGI has asked states and UT drug controllers to direct all blood centres under their jurisdiction to adhere to the revised guidelines.

Per unit of blood in case of no blood donation is priced between ₹3,000 to ₹8,000 by private hospitals, officials said.

In cases of blood shortage or rare blood groups, the charges may go up higher.

For blood donation, the age of the donor must be above 18 years and below 65 years. He/she must have a haemoglobin count that is not less than 12.5 g/dl. The Weigh should not less than 45 kgs. One should have a normal body temperature at the time of donation.

A study in 2022 extrapolated the eligible donor population in India at 402 million. The supply was estimated at 33.8 donations against the demand of 36.3 per thousand donations, translating to a shortage of one million units annually. Medical specialty had the highest demand for blood at 6.0 million units (41.2%), followed by surgery 4.1 million (27.9%), obstetrics and gynecology 3.3 million (22.4%) and pediatrics 1.2 million (8.5%).

The government in 2002 published the National Blood Policy to reiterate the commitment to safe blood and blood components. It documents the strategies for making available adequate resources, technology, and training for improving transfusion services apart from outlining methods for donor motivation and appropriate clinical use of blood by clinicians.

Maha go-ahead for old pension plan

Chief Minister Shinde clears subsidy of ₹5 on per litre of milk produced by state farmers

SUDHIR SURYAWANSHI @Mumbai

THE Maharashtra cabinet on Thursday gave the go-ahead to a proposal that will enable state employees, who joined the government service after November 1, 2005, to opt for the Old Pension Scheme (OPS). Chairing the meeting, Chief Minister Eknath Shinde approved the proposal in addition to few others that will benefit the farmers and the common people.

As per the decision, though the employees who joined the government service on or after November 1, 2005 are eligible but the advertisement for these posts has to be published before November 2005.

According to officials, the government officers and employees are being given a one-time option to implement the provisions of the Maharashtra Civil Service Pension Rules, 1982, Maharashtra Civil Service Pension Rules, 1984 and General Provident Fund and Ancillary Rules on the lines of the Central Government.

Officers and employees who opt to apply the old pension and ancillary rules will have a Provident Fund (GPF) account opened and their share of the new Defined Contribution Pension (NPS) along with interest will be credited to the said account. The amount of the State Government's share in the New Defined Contribution Pension Account (NPS) of officers and employees accepting the option of Old Pension and Subsidiary Rules will be transferred to the Consolidated Fund of the state along with interest, they added.

The decision comes days after the government and semi-government employees went on a strike reiterating their demand to restore the old scheme. Meanwhile, criticising the move, state government employees organisation secretary Ganpat Kulte alleged that it will benefit only 5% employees.

He said of the 17 lakh employees, only 5,000 will avail the benefits of this OPS decision. "As per state government, the OPS will be only given to those whose selections advertisements published before November 2005 even though they joined service later. But what about the people whose selections advertisements published after 2005? We will raise the issue again. We are not satisfied with the state the government's decision," Kulte added.

The CM also approved the decision of giving the subsidy of Rs 5 on per litre of milk productions to farmers.

The subsidy scheme will be implemented through cooperative milk unions in the state. Co-operative milk farmers will have to pay a minimum of Rs29 per litre for 3.2 fat to the bank account online. Upon that, they will be given DBT credit through the government for Rs 5 per liter in the bank account.

This scheme will be in effect from January 1-February 29. The cabinet also agreed to implement the wine industry promotion scheme for five years to benefit farmers growing grape. Besides, the toll charges will be slashed from ₹ 500 to ₹250 for travelling on newly constructed Atal Bihari Vajpayee Shivadi Nhava Sheva Atal Setu.

However, for the frequent travellers, return pass is discounted at half the one way fare, daily pass is 2.5 times the one way fare.

'New DGP in state'

The Maharashtra government on Thursday appointed controversial 1988 batch IPS officer Rashmi Shukla as the director general of Maharashtra state police. Oppositions had opposed the appointment of Shulka as she allegedly tapped the mobile phone of the Opposition leaders including Maharashtra congress president Nana Patole, Shiv Sena leader Sanjay Raut, NCP leader Eknath Shinde during 2019 state assembly elections and formation of Maha Vikas Aghadi as well. She was close to the BJP.

Soren says won't quit, but keeps his team 'crisis-ready'

MUKESH RANJAN @Ranchi

CHIEF Minister Hemant Soren, during the legislative party meeting on Wednesday, assured MLAs of the ruling alliance that he was not going to resign. However, they were asked not to leave Ranchi and in case of an emergency, they should inform their whereabouts to their legislative party leader before leaving the state capital.

According to the sources in the ruling alliance, the Chief Minister told them that he will continue his struggle and sought their support to continue his battle against the atrocities of the BJP government at the centre.

The MLAs, who attended the meeting on Wednesday, also claimed that no discussion took place on the issue of Kalpana Soren and were informed by the Chief Minister that the Gandey MLA resigned as a precautionary measure to deal with any untoward political situation. Speculations were rife that the Gandey Assembly seat has been vacated for Soren's wife in case of any untoward situation in the wake of the ongoing probe being conducted by the Enforcement Directorate in land scam case.

"The Chief Minister assured quite confidently that there is nothing to worry as everything is under control. The sacrifice by former Gandey MLA Sarfaraj Ahemed is really commendable and the he and his party will never forget it," said an MLA of the ruling alliance. The Chief Minister said that the Gandey Assembly seat will be used judiciously at right time, he said.

He further added that the MLAs also assured Soren that they are all united and will not let any conspiracy succeed against the JMM-led alliance government in the state. Meanwhile, they have been asked to remain in the state capital at least for a week and in case, they need to go out to their constituencies.

Modi to address top cops in state capital

Prime Minister Narendra Modi will be spending three days in Jaipur in the new year. He will reach Jaipur on January 5 for high profile All India Conference of Director Generals and Inspector Generals of Police, where DGs and IGs from across the country will discuss issues of internal security. The meet will discuss new challenges of artificial intelligence (AI), cyber security, counter-terrorism and evolve a road map for implementation of the new criminal laws recently passed by Parliament. Before the meeting, PM Modi will visit the BJP headquarters in Jaipur to meet all newly-elected BJP MLAs to spur them on Lok Sabha battle.

State gets new Chief Secretary this year

Sudhansh Pant, a 1991 batch officer, has now become the new boss of the state bureaucracy. Though he was at 7 in seniority, he was picked as the Chief Secretary which many see as a reward for his tiff with the Water Supply Minister Mahesh Joshi during the Congress government. It made Pant move to Delhi in 2022. In his first meeting with bureaucrats, Pant gave clear indications that the work culture of the Bhajanlal government in the state will be on the lines of the Modi government at the Centre. Mentioning PM Modi, Pant said transparency and timeliness will be paramount.

Raj has ministers but they have no portfolios

It has been over a month since results of the Rajasthan election were declared, but portfolios for newly-appointed ministers still remain elusive. Everything has been getting delayed since the BJP victory. Firstly, they took 9 days before appointing the Chief Minister. Then it took another fortnight for the formation of the state cabinet which was delayed till December 30. But nearly a week later, portfolios are yet to be allotted - though most ministers, including two deputy CMs have started sitting in their offices in the secretariat, they virtually have no work since they have not been assigned any departments which is hampering government functioning.

Amid BJP aggressiveness, rift emerges in Trinamool over 'old vs new' factions

PRANAB MONDAL @Kolkata

THE recent debate on the nouveau and vieux within the Trinamool Congress with statements flying thick and fast is deferring the ruling party's plan to dive headlong into preparations ahead of the upcoming Lok Sabha elections.

When the BJP is planning massive propaganda over the Ram Mandir inauguration by PM Narendra Modi, TMC's top-tier leadership is being seen busy talking about old versus new guards referring to aunt versus nephew.

Though the conflict between old versus new is not first time in West Bengal's political fore, TMC's case is different as it seems to have divided the party along two factions—one known as party supremo Mamata Banerjee's loyal lieutenants and the other followers of her nephew and party's national general secretary Abhishek Banerjee.

"The debate ahead of the LS polls will benefit neither the old nor the new. We can win the elections based on organisational strength down to the booth level, which the BJP is lacking. Our booth-level preparations are getting affected which may turn into party's debacle in the upcoming general elections," said a senior TMC leader.

On Monday, TMC's foundation day witnessed a never-before war of words between leaders from the two camps.

> The debate ahead of the LS polls will benefit neither the old nor the new. We can win the elections based on organisational strength down to booth level, which BJP lacks
> Senior TMC leader

The meeting between Mamata and Abhishek, on the same day, followed a dramatic exchange of fire between the party's state president Subrata Bakshi, who is deemed as the face of the so-called old guards, and TMC's state general secretary Kunal Ghosh, who is believed to be Abhishek's mouthpiece.

In the backdrop of Abhishek's silence since Durga Puja on matters pertaining to politics, Bakshi said, "If Abhishek Banerjee decides to participate in the LS polls, I am confident that he will not leave the field and continue his battle for the party with Mamata Banerjee in the forefront."

MANIPUR

Govt forms SIT to probe Jan 1 civilian killings

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Guwahati

THE death toll in the new year shooting incident in Manipur rose to five even as the state government constituted a Special Investigation Team (SIT) to probe the case. One Md Abdur Rajaq, who was grievously injured in the incident, succumbed to his injuries at a private hospital on Wednesday.

The attack on that day was carried out by some gunmen at Lilong, a Meitei Pangal (Meitei Muslim)-dominated area in the Thoubal district of Imphal valley. Over a dozen people were also injured.

Later, the Revolutionary People's Front claimed responsibility. The insurgent group said the incident occurred during a mission to round up a drug cartel that persistently disregarded warnings to stop drug trade. An official order said Sub-Divisional Police Officer (SDPO) Md Riyajuddin Shah would head the six-member SIT.

Meanwhile, a crisis was averted after a Joint Action Committee of the Meitei Pangals agreed to claim the bodies of victims for last rites. This followed the signing of a MoU with the government in the presence of CM N Biren Singh.

Puri seer says won't visit Ayodhya, says rituals must conform to shastras

ANURAAG SINGH @Bhopal

SWAMI Nischalananda Saraswati – the Shankaracharya of Govardhana Peeth in Puri – one of prominent Hindu seers in the country has announced that he will not go for the January 22 installation of Lord Ram's idol at sanctum sanctorum of Ram Temple in Ayodhya.

Talking to journalists on the sidelines of a religious event of the Sanatan Dharma Sabha in Ratlam city of Madhya Pradesh on Wednesday, the Shankaracharya (who heads one of the four Mutts established by Adi Shankaracharya) made it clear that he's not going to Ayodhya for the January 22 event.

"Our Mutt has received the invite for the January 22 event in Ayodhya, which says that if I want to come there, I can come there maximum with one person. Even if I was allowed to be there with 100 people, I wouldn't have gone there that day."

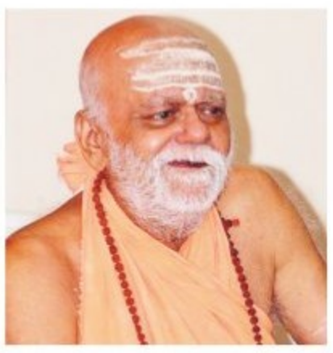
"I've been going to Ayodhya in the past and will visit the same religious city in future also to get darshan of Lord Ram, particularly as the work which remained blocked for centuries is finally happening. But the installation of Ramlala's idol in the temple should be done according to Shastriya Vidhi (principles of our Shastras). The jurisdiction of Govardhan Peeth/Mutt spans up to Prayag, but neither our advice nor our guidance was sought for the entire January 22 religious exercise," he added.

"I'm not at all upset, but happy just like any other Sanatani Hindu, particularly as the current Prime Minister Narendra Modi doesn't believe in portraying himself as secular. He is brave and takes pride in Hindutva and the concept of idol worship. He's not a coward who portrays himself as secular. But what will I do there as the Shankaracharya, when Modiji (PM Modi) will touch the idol and install it there, will I clap and hail him."

He also recounted how Narendra Modi had met him before taking oath as PM and frequent visits by UP CM Yogi Adityanath to him at least twice or thrice annually before the COVID-19 pandemic. "Former VHP president Late Ashok Singhal met me at least 70 times."

While the Shankaracharya praised PM Modi for his commitment towards Hindutva, he also added, "The pilgrimages are now being turned into centers of tourism in the name of development which means that Teerth Sthals are being turned into Bhog Sthals, perhaps this what is being lapped up by the people also in the name of development."

Meanwhile, former MP CM and present Congress MP Digvijaya Singh questioned in Indore, about why a new idol is being installed at the Ram Temple. "Major dispute pertained to the old idol of Ramlala, where is that idol?"



Massive diya

In an effort to add uniqueness to the event, there will be an installation of a huge 'Diya' (earthen lamp) which will be lighted on the day of consecration symbolising the 'diyas' of Treta Yug, the era of Lord Ram. Named as 'Dashrath Deep', the earthen lamp would have a diameter of around 28 metre and would require at least 21 quintal oil to get illuminated. It will take shape to be placed at Ramghat

U'khand's rogue tigers to be 'sentenced to life'

NARENDRA SETHI @Dehradun

IN Uttarakhand, 23 tigers and tigresses, implicated in the deaths of nine people and other injuries, face a bleak future with little chance of release. Their aggressive behaviour has necessitated a decision to keep them permanently in rescue centres, effectively serving 'life sentences'.

A notable case involves a tigress from Bhimtal, linked to the deaths of three women and now relocated to the Dhela Rescue Centre. Classified as a man-eater by the Wildlife Institute of India, this tigress is condemned to lifelong confinement, with no possibility of returning to the wild. According to forest department records, a series of tiger attacks have occurred in the Dhikala area.

For instance, on August 13, 2019, a tiger killed beat watcher Bishan Ram during his patrol in Dhikala. Subsequently, on February 12, 2022, an unidentified individual fell victim to a tiger near the Dhungari Gate on NH-309. Then, on June 16, 2022, a tiger fatally attacked bike rider Khalil Ahmad at the same location. These incidents prompted swift action from the department, leading to the capture of a tigress from the Sarpaduli Range on July 8, 2022, who is now housed at the rescue centre.

Additionally, on July 16, 2022, a tiger killed bike rider Afsarul near Mohan. Then, on December 12, 2022, ex-serviceman Bahadur Singh Bisht was attacked and killed by a tiger at Dhungari on NH-309.

Furthermore, on December 24, 2022, a tiger killed Mohd. Nafees near Panodnala on NH-309. Both the tiger and tigress were identified in all three incidents. Forest officials captured the tigress on January 18 and the tiger on February 16. Currently, both are held at the rescue centre.

Dr Dheeraj Pandey, director of Corbett Tiger Reserve, noted that the tiger population in the state, especially in Corbett, has impressively doubled to 260, despite no expansion in the park's size. "We have initiated the 'Living with Tigers' program, which includes ongoing awareness and orientation sessions about tigers for school children and the general public since June 16, 2023," Dr Pandey stated. He added that over 2000 school children have participated in these sessions, and awareness campaigns about tigers are being conducted through WhatsApp groups and other programs.

Dr Pandey highlighted that most tiger attacks happen in forested areas, often due to risky human behaviour, like venturing into these areas at night. He suggests that the responsibility in such cases lies with the individuals.

Sameer Sinha, the Chief Wildlife Warden, holds the final decision on these tigers' fate. He described the decision-making process as highly sensitive, involving thorough evaluation of all factors before deciding on the release of any confined tiger.

Currently, the tigers are housed in three rescue centres located in Almora, Dhela, and Chidiyapur. Restrictions are in place to reduce stress on these animals, already distressed from captivity. Sources in the forest department mention that making loud noises near the rescue centres is prohibited, as the 'convicted tigers' are already under natural stress due to captivity.

PENSION ISSUE NEEDS URGENT ATTENTION: FATHER OF LCA

THEY explained that their situation has become acute following the Covid-19 pandemic and increased cost of living, housing, and children's education.

The LCA is the most successful programme and they are hopeful of getting the pension, the association president Biju Uthup told The New Indian Express on Thursday. "Giving pension is the best award you can give to scientists and employees who have given the LCA to the nation," said Biju, who worked with ADA from 1987 to 2019. He was a project director of the Unmanned Combat Aerial Vehicle (UCAV) project and an Outstanding Scientist.

Former Chief Public Relations Officer of ADA, JP Rao, said their fight for pension started right after the LCA's maiden flight on January 4, 2001.

"We are not getting any pension. ADA was an autonomous body registered under the Societies Registration Act and it does not come under a Central government institution, though it was a central government body. Dr APJ Abdul Kalam (who later became India's President) had done it to cut red-tapism to fast track the project," said Rao, who worked in ADA right from the initial phase of the LCA development project.

The AREWA was formed in 2002. Apart from submitting memorandums to the Centre, its members had also met the Parliamentary Standing Committee members who had visited ADA. After the Parliamentary Standing Committee members took it up with the Defence Minister, AREWA got a response stating that their request was under consideration.

'Father of the LCA project' and former director of ADA, Dr Kota Harinarayana, also confirmed with The New Indian Express that every time they speak to the officials of the Ministry of Defence, they are told that they will get it done. "There is an absolute need for attention towards this issue, and they richly deserve it," said the veteran scientist, after whose initials the very first LCA flying model was designated as "KH-01".

Now, the retired ADA team members of the early phase of the project development hope the pension for them sees the light of day before the Election Code of Conduct comes into effect in the next few months ahead of the 2024 Lok Sabha polls.

US strike in Baghdad kills Iran-backed militia head

Iraq's PM accuses the US-led anti-jihadist coalition; labels it a blatant aggression, a dangerous escalation, and assault

BAGHDAD

A US airstrike on the headquarters of an Iran-backed militia in central Baghdad on Thursday killed a high-ranking militia commander, officials said.

The Popular Mobilization Force (PMF), a coalition of militias that is nominally under the control of the Iraqi military, announced in a statement that its deputy head of operations in Baghdad, Mushtaq Taleb al-Saidi, or "Abu Taqwa," had been killed "as a result of brutal American aggression."

Iraqi PM Mohammed Shia al-Sudani's office accused the US-led anti-jihadist coalition of the strike, labelling it "a blatant aggression" as well as "a dangerous escalation and assault." "The Iraqi armed forces hold the global coalition forces responsible for this unwarranted attack," a spokesperson for Sudani said in a statement.

A US official who spoke on condition of anonymity to provide information that has not yet been publicly released confirmed that US forces conducted a strike on a vehicle in Baghdad on Monday against the group Harakat al-Nujaba. The group, one of the militias within PMF, was designated a terrorist organisation by Washington in 2019.

Iraqi military spokesman Yehia Rasool said that the Iraqi army blames the US-led International Coalition Forces for the "unprovoked attack on an Iraqi security body operating in accordance with the powers granted to it by" the Iraqi military. Thursday's strike killed two persons and wounded five, according to two militia officials who spoke on condition of anonymity. One of the officials said Mushtaq Taleb al-Saidi was driving into the garage of the headquarters affiliated with the Harakat al-Nujaba militia, along with another militia official, when the car was hit, killing both.

Heavy security was deployed around the location of the strike on Baghdad's Palestine Street, and Iraqi war planes could be seen flying overhead.

An AP photographer was eventually allowed access to the scene of the strike, where he saw the remains of the charred car. Agencies

Citizens asked to report threat calls from overseas no

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

DoT advises citizens to beware of malicious incoming calls from international numbers claiming to cause disruption in India's stock exchanges and trading. Such calls are initiated by anti-national elements aimed at creating panic. It directed telecom service providers to block malicious calls from such numbers

Telecom Department

THE Department of Telecommunication (DoT) on Thursday advised people not to panic on calls from international numbers threatening to disrupt stock exchanges and trading in the country.

It asked citizens if anyone gets any such call should immediately report it to DoT on its Sancharsaathi portal or their telecom service providers. The department also directed all the telecom service providers such as Bharti Airtel, Vodafone Idea and Reliance Jio to block malicious calls from such numbers.

"The Department of Telecommunications (DoT) advises citizens to beware of malicious incoming calls from international numbers claiming to cause disruption in India's stock exchanges and trading. Such malicious calls are initiated by anti-national elements aimed at creating panic. The DoT has directed all the telecom service providers to block malicious calls from such numbers," said DoT in a press note.

Of late, many people reported getting calls from international numbers asking them to sell their shares before March 12, 2024. These callers are also threatening people of impending destruction of India's stock exchange. It all began when Khalistani terrorist Gurpatwant Singh Pannun asked his followers to target the BSE and the NSE on the anniversary of the 1993 Mumbai blasts. Pannun said he was targeting India's stock exchange to destroy India's economic system.

According to a report, DoT also has asked the Ministry of Finance and the Securities and Exchange Board of India (SEBI) to take measures to increase the cybersecurity at the BSE and the NSE.Pannun is a designated "individual terrorist" under the UAPA. He and his organisation Sikh for Justice are banned in India under the Unlawful Activities (Prevention) Act (UAPA).

'No expansion of PLI scheme to new sectors'

Official says govt will ensure existing schemes get implemented well, thereafter Centre will condider expansion

MONIKA YADAV @ New Delhi

THE government is focusing on the existing production-linked incentive (PLI) schemes for the 14 sectors and for the time being it has no plans to expand them to new sectors such as toys.

According to the Department for Promotion of Industry and Internal Trade (DPIIT), Secretary, Rajesh Kumar Singh, PLI schemes for sectors including pharmaceuticals, white goods, and electronics are progressing well and currently demand their full attention.

"Currently, we are focusing on the 14 production-linked incentive schemes, which are up and running in a good way. So for the time being, the new PLIs are not being considered," Singh said while further adding that the government will ensure that these existing schemes get implemented well and thereafter it will see.

The government had previously intended to extend the production-linked incentive scheme to new sectors such as leather, toys, and new-age e-bikes in order to utilize the remaining budget allocated for the 14 sectors.

Introduced in 2021, the PLI scheme encompassed 14 sectors, including telecommunications, white goods, textiles, medical devices manufacturing, automobiles, specialty steel, food products, high-efficiency solar PV modules, advanced chemistry cell batteries, drones, and pharmaceuticals, with a budget of ₹1.97 lakh crore.

Singh also revealed that the DPIIT has commissioned a third-party assessment of the PLI scheme focused on white goods, specifically air conditioners and LED lights. The study, assigned to the Arun Jaitley National Institute of Financial Management (AJNIFM), will evaluate the scheme from various perspectives and determine if any adjustments or modifications are necessary. Furthermore, the department plans twill conduct similar assessments for other initiatives, including industrial corridors.

Meanwhile, a recent case study conducted by the Indian Institute of Management (IIM) Lucknow, under the supervision of the department revealed a significant progress in the toys sector during the financial year 2022-23, compared to FY 2014-15.

Notably, the analysis showcased a remarkable decline of 52% in toy imports, coupled with an impressive increase of 239% in toy exports during the mentioned period. Furthermore, the study identified an overall enhancement in the quality of toys available in the domestic market.

Over a span of six years, from 2014 to 2020, the government measures resulted in a doubling of toy manufacturing units, a reduction in dependence on imported inputs from 33% to 12%, and a significant increase in gross sales value with a compound annual growth rate (CAGR) of 10%.

RBI asks credit bureaus to improve data quality

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

THE Reserve Bank of India (RBI) has asked credit information companies (CICs) or credit bureaus to improve data quality and timely redressal of customer complaints.

In a meeting with the heads of CICs, deputy RBI governor Swaminathan J on Thursday told the CICs that there is a rise in customer complaints related to credit information and some concerns have emerged during RBI's supervisory assessment.

The deputy governor highlighted six key areas for the CICs to focus on. They include the need to improve the data quality, timely redressal of customer complaints and streamlining the process for handling data correction requests. The deputy governor also told the credit bureaus to strengthen the internal ombudsman framework, cybersecurity and data privacy mechanism through robust information security governance framework and address concerns arising out of usage of data for consulting, analytics, etc.

The credit bureaus shared their feedback and highlighted the initiatives that are being taken in collaborating with the credit institutions (CIs) for enhancing data quality.

The meeting was chaired by Deputy Governor Swaminathan J and was attended by the executive directors and other senior officials of the Department of Supervision and Department of Regulation, RBI.

RBI in October last year had instructed credit bureaus to provide easy access to full credit report including credit score to individuals whose credit history is available once every year free of cost. The regulator had asked the CICs to make available the credit report by displaying the link prominently on the home page of their website so that individuals are able to access their credit report conveniently.

The Reserve Bank of India (RBI) has instructed banks and financial institutions to inform customers whenever they submit information to credit bureaus about default or delays in payment of loans. The banking regulator has asked the credit bureaus to alert the customers when their credit reports are accessed by a third party.

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Bengaluru

FUNDING in the Indian fintech sector has been experiencing a downward trend as the sector received only $2 billion funding in 2023, a fall of 63% and 76% compared to $5.4 billion raised in 2022 and $8.4 billion in 2021.

According to Tracxn's India Fintech Report 2023, late-stage rounds in 2023 secured $1.4 billion in funding, a 56% drop compared to $3.2 billion raised in 2022. Early-stage rounds faced a similar trend, with funding plummeting to $489 million, a 73% decline from the $1.8 billion raised in 2022. Seed-stage rounds too witnessed downward trajectory, as it secured $145 million, a 69% drop compared to $474 million raised in the preceding year.

Despite the challenges posed by factors including increasing borrowing costs and macroeconomic conditions, according to the report, India ranked third globally in 2023 in terms of fintech start-up funding.

Alternative lending, payments and Bankingtech were the top-performing segments in the fintech sector, as alternative lending received funding of $835 million in 2023, down from $2.28 billion in 2022. The BNPL segment saw significant growth due to its adoption within the country.

The year witnessed five funding rounds surpassing the $100 million mark, and there were 31 acquisitions, similar to the previous year. Two companies- Zaggle and Veefin- announced IPOs in 2023, compared to five companies that went public in 2022. Bengaluru emerged as the leader in total fintech funding raised in 2023, followed by Mumbai and Jaipur.

Relief for air passengers as IndiGo waives fuel charge on ATF price fall

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

IN a major relief for air passengers, country's largest carrier IndiGo has removed fuel charges applicable on its domestic and international routes, effective January 4, 2024.

The fuel charge, ranging up to ₹1,000 per flight, was introduced in October 2023, following a sharp surge in aviation turbine fuel (ATF) prices.

With the recent reduction in ATF prices, IndiGo is withdrawing the charge. "As ATF prices are dynamic, we will continue to adjust our fares and components thereof, to respond to any change in prices or market conditions. IndiGo remains committed to its promise of providing of affordable, on-time, courteous, and hassle-free travel for our customers," the airline said in a statement on Thursday.

Jet fuel or ATF price was cut for the third consecutive month on January 1st. The ATF prices were slashed by ₹4,162.5, or 3.9% on 1 January 2024 in Delhi to ₹101,993.17 per kl, according to price notifications of oil marketing companies. ATF prices were earlier sliced by 6% (₹6,854.25 per kl) in November and by ₹5,189.25, or 4.6%, in December.

On October 5, IndiGo had introduced a fuel charge of up to Rs 1,000 on domestic and international routes. Under this pricing structure, passengers booking IndiGo flights will incur a fuel charge, per sector, based on the sector distance. IndiGo was charging extra ₹300 for distances up to 500 km, ₹400 for 501-1,000 km, ₹550 for 1,001-1,500 km, ₹650 for 1,501-2,500 km, ₹800 for 2,501-3,500 km, and ₹1,000 for over 3,500 km.

Invesco raises Swiggy valuation to $8.3 billion

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Bengaluru

ASSET management company Invesco has marked up Swiggy's valuation to $8.3 billion. This is the second time Swiggy's valuation has been raised in recent times.

As per regulatory filings, the value of Invesco's 28,844 shares in Swiggy were worth $147.63 million. As per Tracxn report, Invesco holds 2% stake in Swiggy. The increase in valuation comes at a time when Swiggy is planning for an initial public offering. A few months ago, Baron Capital slashed the food delivery firm's valuation by 34% to $7.3 billion, and in October, Invesco marked up the valuation of Swiggy from $5.5 billion to $7.85 billion

In 2022, Swiggy raised $700 million in a funding led by Invesco, and it turned a decacorn as valuation crossed over $10.7 billion. Swiggy turned profitable as of March 2023.

Nifty realty index surges another 7% on improving business prospects

ARSHAD KHAN @ New Delhi

AFTER gaining more than 80% in 2023, the highest for any sectoral index, the Nifty Realty Index surged 7% on Thursday as shares of index heavyweights-Sobha, Microtech Developers (Lodha), Godrej Properties, DLF and Brigade Enterprises-jumped between 6% to 16% on improving business prospects and buy call from brokerages.

Market analysts have attributed strong buying in reality stocks to expected interest rate cuts by banks in coming months following a dovish stance maintained by the Federal Reserve.

The index jumped over 7% intraday to hit its fresh 52-week high of 844.40 and finally closed 6.76% higher at 841.30 with all 10 components closing in the green. Shares of Prestige Estates, Oberoi Realty, Mahindra Lifespace Developers and The Phoenix Mills jumped between 4% and 6%. Shares of Puravankara closed with a 13% gain on Thursday. Naveen K R, smallcase manager & senior director at Windmill Capital said Nifty realty index has outperformed the broader market in 2023, marking a strong turn since RBI paused on rate hikes in March 2023. A potential rate cut in 2024, as global rates likely head down, will be positive for the sector, added Naveen.

"However the strong rally in realty stocks has priced in some of these gains. It is important to note that property sales have favoured premium & luxury housing in this upturn so far. A potential rate cut could actually help affordable housing segment more. With talks of government reviving interest subvention scheme for affordable housing, there seems to be more steam to the rally," he said.

Naveen explained since mid-2020s, Indian housing cycle has been on an upswing. Sales have since doubled, and supplies are still only catching up. The housing market has seen volumes surge by 25% YoY in 2023, doubling in three-years. As per analysts, 2024 should see a residential volume rise of 10%+ with a upside if mortgage rate cuts and/or govt. policy support.

The surge in realty stock also came as overall market sentiment remained positive after the minutes of the latest Federal Reserve meeting, released late on Wednesday, indicated that the policymakers are convinced that inflation has come under control and a rate cut is expected by March 2024.

Nadal reaches Brisbane quarterfinals

Rafael Nadal's comeback from a year-long injury layoff reached the Brisbane International quarterfinals after dominating Jason Kubler 6-1, 6-2 on Thursday. The 22-time major winner is playing on a wild card after his ranking slipped into the 600s as he recovered from hip surgery, and he's desperate for match time ahead of the Australian Open this month.

UWW writes to IOA, ad-hoc panel seeking WFI election report

FIROZ MIRZA @Chennai

EXACTLY two weeks after the election to the executive committee of the Wrestling Federation of India (WFI) was held in New Delhi, the United World Wrestling (UWW) on Thursday apparently has sought written confirmation from the Indian Olympic Association (IOA) about the proceedings. It is understood that the UWW apparently has addressed a letter to both the IOA president and ad-hoc committee asking them to submit a detailed plan to provide a safe environment to wrestlers for approval.

Incidentally, the letter was written to the IOA and its ad hoc panel, a day after this daily reported that the UWW is yet not receive any official confirmation regarding the WFI election from the IOA. It should be noted here that the UWW suspended the WFI last year for not conducting elections. It also raised serious concerns over the wrestlers' protest in the country wherein the top grapplers from the country accused the former WFI president Brij Bhushan Sharan Singh of sexual harassment.

The detailed plan sought by the world body deals with the issues as it urged the IOA to set up a committee to address complaints of abuse and harassment. The committee has to be in compliance with the Indian laws said the UWW. It also urged the IOA to form an Athletes' Commission that should consist of male and female athletes in equal numbers. The UWW made it clear that the suspension imposed in August last year could only be revoked once these measures are implemented. It also clarified that Indian wrestlers can continue to participate in international events under the same conditions laid out in the suspension letter.

World body yet to receive WFI election confirmation

FIROZ MIRZA @Chennai

MUCH water has flown under the bridge ever since the election to the executive committee of the Wrestling Federation of India (WFI) was held almost two weeks ago. Only three days later on December 24, the newly-elected WFI was abstained from functioning by the sports ministry. The ministry also directed the Indian Olympic Association to form an ad-hoc committee to run the sport in the country.

In the meantime, the only woman wrestler from the country to have won an Olympic medal, Sakshi Malik, announced her retirement from the sport while Olympic medalist Bajrang Punia and World Championships medallist national tournaments, however, threatened to return awards of the suspension of the WFI is Interestingly, the IOA though had not sent the WFI election report which was held on December 21 under the guidance of returning officer MM Kumar, former Chief Justice of J&K High Court, it had sent the report on the formation of the three-member ad-hoc committee. The panel was formed almost a week after the polls wherein Brij Bhushan's close associate Sanjay Singh was elected as the president of the WFI.

Sanjay calls EC meeting

Even as the sports ministry has abstained the newly-elected WFI from functioning, Sanjay Singh has issued a notice of the meeting of the executive committee meeting on January 16 in New Delhi. Citing subarticle a of Article X, the letter issued on December 31 says president shall be the chief officer of the WFI and shall be empowered to call meetings of the council and executive if he deems it proper.

Prominent items listed on the agenda are a) To discuss and act upon the decisions and directions of the General Council meeting of the WFI held on 21st December 2023; b) To discuss about the new office of the WFI which has been shifted from its existing office to 101, Hari Nagar, Ashram Chowk, New Delhi; c) To decide the annual calendar of the WFI; d) To appoint Special Committees for specific functions and assign duties whenever necessary and delegate all or any of its powers to a Committee; e) To explain, define and interpret certain provision of this constitution; f) To discuss the required amendments to the constitution of the WFI; g) To discuss about the decision taken by the Ministry of Youth Affairs & Sports, Govt. of India in respect of forming Ad-hoc Committee; h) To discuss about holding the National Wrestling Championships in different age groups.

It should be noted here that the ad-hoc body has already announced its decision to hold the senior national championships next month in Jaipur. It also announced to organise the U-15 and U-20 national championships within six weeks after hundreds of upcoming wrestlers gathered at Jantar Mantar on Wednesday to protest against the ongoing mess.

Ad-hoc panel meets

On a day that witnessed quite a few developments as far as wrestling in the country is concerned, the ad-hoc panel headed by Bhupender Singh Bajwa also met to discuss the way forward. Officially made in charge of the game in the country by the sports ministry, the panel members apparently shared their plans keeping in view the 2024 Paris Olympics. Among other things the panel also discussed about the junior nationals, which it is planning to hold in February. And the nationals will be held as if it were organised in 2023. This means age concession will be given to the players.

Pacer Bumrah takes six as India level series with a memorable victory in the shortest Test of all time

CAPE CONQUERED

GOMESH S @Chennai

TO be honest, when Day Two started at Newlands with South Africa having seven wickets in hand, everyone knew it was only a matter of time. And it took exactly 31.5 overs to get a result. India recorded their first Test win in Cape Town, their first New Year's Test win in 37 years, their first shared Test series in South Africa since 2011.

Well the storyline on Thursday did not have much surprise. First Jasprit Bumrah conjured magic, registering his eighth fifer outside Asia. Then, Aiden Markram produced a batting masterclass on how to bat on an awkward Cape Town pitch. Where no other batter crossed fifty, Markram smashed a 103-ball 106 — highest individual contribution (60.23 %) in a completed Test innings for South Africa — before the hosts were dismissed for 176. There on, it took about 12 overs for India to chase the target, and this time, Rohit Sharma ensured he was there in the middle to take the team home.

While the Test match lasted only 642 legitimate deliveries in Cape Town, every ball was an event. When Bumrah or Mohammed Siraj or Kagiso Rabada was running in, one could not take the eye off the TV screen. Having seen how the surface played out on Wednesday, they were consistently hitting the right length and letting pitch take care of the rest. The red cherry was seaming around, testing the batters, as it always has in Cape Town. And both Bumrah and Rabada showed why they are among the best in the business — the former's record is nothing short of spectacular in the all-time list, and same is the case for the South African.

The quality of the bowling apart, what made life even more difficult for the batter is the uneven bounce. It was inconsistent. On Thursday, one delivery from Rabada lifted from length to Shubman Gill on the right shoulder. Eight overs later, from the same length, another Rabada delivery would kept at about a foot high to catch him off-guard and hit the stumps. Which is what makes the century from Markram even more special.

Uneven bounce troubled batters throughout the match in Cape Town | PTI/AFP

South Africa were always expected to be a tough place to bat, especially in the last five years. However, that it had the shortest Test in history, that spinners did not bowl a single delivery, that the two-match Test series ended in four and a half days sums it up. Rohit, who did not make an issue out of the surface, made it a point to talk about the comments turning surfaces in India attract from visiting sides, before adding, "It was not going to be an easy pitch. So how much ever you can try and score, apply yourself, get hit on your body, it's fine, but just go and put yourself ahead. If you have to take a blow, be ready for it. That's something that we spoke of."

"It'll be one of our best Test match victories. It's very hard to compare the Tests that you play because every Test has its own importance and own relevance. The Test match that we won at The Gabba as well. The last test match that was lost by Australia in Brisbane was in 1988, I think. So you can't really rank, but this has to be right up there because we had not won here (Cape Town). That shows how important a venue this is for us to come here and perform."

Indeed, despite all the talk about the surface and how it behaved, what matters in the end is who played better on it, and in Cape Town, Rohit and Co. did. Which is why, it will go down as one of the best overseas Test wins for India in the past decade, alongside Johannesburg 2018, Gabba 2021, Lord's 2021 and Centurion 2021.

Litmus test for India against Oz

KALYANI MANGALE @Chennai

AFTER eight matches across two different formats, India's packed home winter of international cricket is heading towards its conclusion. For the hosts, it has been a mixed bag with historic wins in Tests, but losses in both white-ball series — first against England in T20Is and then recently in the ODI series facing Australia. The success in the Test is certainly laudable, but the reality checks handed to the unit by both sides have larger implications given what's to come.

For now, according to the ICC's Future Tours Program, after these three T20I fixtures, India do not have any series scheduled till the World Cup in September. There is a chance the home series against South Africa and New Zealand, which were supposed to happen in September and October of 2023 could get rescheduled. However, at the moment, the series against the current T20 WC champions is potentially their best opportunity to prepare ahead of the ICC tournament in Bangladesh.

The series loss against England early in December 2023, the first under newly-appointed coach Amol Muzumdar, showed how India is still facing the similar issues they have seen over the years. The inability to break the partnerships, fielding lapses, misjudgment in the batting order, and conservative approach in the chase after the fall of quick wickets were on display in the first two fixtures. However, bowlers, led by off-spinner Shreyanka Patil and Saika Ishaque, followed by some clutch batting by Amanjot Kaur saved the day for India. "More exposure, fitness, and fielding will be my top priority. The fringe players - the new generation coming through - will get equal opportunities. These are the prime things that we will take forward after this series," Muzumdar had said in his first-ever media interaction after taking over the duties. By giving opportunities and sticking with both Ishaque and Patil in the series against England, Muzumdar kept his word. After Renuka Singh Thakur, both debutants took the highest wickets for India in the series (five each) to prove their coach right.

"Fearless cricket is something I have always advocated. We would be playing that brand of cricket," Muzumdar had said in the same media interaction. The cricket played in the first series under his watch wasn't exactly fearless, but there were solid takeaways to take from that. And the three-match series against Australia is the best way for the team to see if they can execute those lessons at the DY Patil Stadium, where the two sides will face each other, starting from Friday.

India's faith in their new crop of players, especially with the uncertainty over their next fixtures, will be tested against the experienced Australian unit going through transition. However, to be the best, one has to beat the best.

BIG CHALLENGE

No extra pressure as captain: Sai Kishore

ASHOK VENUGOPAL @Chennai

TAMIL Nadu captain Sai Kishore is confident of a good show by his team in the Ranji Trophy and is looking to begin the season on a winning note against Gujarat in their first game on Friday. His confidence stems from the fact that the team has the right mixture of experience and youth in its ranks. Sai Kishore also believes that since the role of the players have been sorted out in the predatory camp, he expects the team to perform to potential. "We are confident of a good show this season. Our preparations have been good and we had a practice match at Baroda. We sorted out the players' roles ahead for the season. We are in good spirits and have jelled as a unit, and I am confident we will do well," said Sai Kishore.

Sai Kishore has led Tamil Nadu in the past, but this is the first time that he has been named as the captain for a full season. "Yes, it feels good to lead Tamil Nadu. But having said that, I feel normal, like how I was just as a player. We have a very good team that has the right mixture of experience and youth in its ranks. So I feel this will make my job all the more easier. There is no extra pressure of being the captain. I believe a captain is as good as his team. So we all want to go out and enjoy the outing," said the left-arm spinner.

Both B Sai Sudharsan, who made his India debut against South Africa, and Pradosh Ranjan Paul have been in good form at South Africa. Their form and contribution will be crucial for the Tamil Nadu top order to put runs on the board. "Yes, both Sai Sudharsan and Pradosh are in good form. Both are available at the moment, so it augurs well for the side. When two youngsters in the team are in good form, it gives the team many options," said Sai Kishore.

Tamil Nadu will be playing red-ball cricket after playing white-ball tournaments. Many players take time to adapt and adjust to different formats, however, the captain is not worried about it. "We have experienced batters in our team. All are professional players so they know how to adapt. Our approach will be to take one match at a time and then carry forward the momentum. I expect a good show from our team," he signed off.

RANJI RETURNS

WITH THE 2023-24 PREMIER DOMESTIC TOURNAMENT GETTING UNDERWAY, A LOOK AT SOME KEY TALKING POINTS...

CHANCE FOR RAHANE, PUJARA?

Ajinkya Rahane and Chesteshwar Pujara are never out of discussion when it comes to red-ball cricket. Although India have recorded a dominant win in Cape Town to level the series, the two spots they owned — No. 3 and 5 — aren't sealed yet. Neither Shubman Gill nor Shreyas Iyer made a mark, and with 10 home Tests ahead, the senior pros will be looking to prove a point in the Ranji Trophy for their respective teams.

FRINGE PLAYERS IN FOCUS

If Rahane and Pujara are one end, there are others like Mayank Agarwal, Hanuma Vihari, Abhimanyu Easwaran who have been in and out of the Indian Test squad in recent years. While Agarwal was the leading run-scorer last season, helping Karnataka reach the semifinals, Vihari and Easwaran have been the pillars of their domestic sides as well. All three would want to create an impact this time as well.

WHO IS THE NEXT INDIA PACER?

It is perhaps the most important question with the pool of pacers for Test cricket shrinking. Last year, Akash Deep and Avesh Khan were the only two fast bowlers among the top ten wicket-takers. Jaydev Unadkat is still thriving, the likes of Vidwath Kaverappa, Vyshak Vijaykumar were impressive last season. Arzan Nagwaswalla and Ishan Porel are among the ones to keep an eye on this time around.

SAXENA AND THE OTHER SPINNERS

Last year, Jalaj Saxena became the first and only uncapped player to have 6000 runs and 400 wickets in first-class cricket. He is still grinding away for Kerala and is one of the few offies to thrive in the Ranji Trophy. K Gowtham took 31 wickets last year. This time, along with them, TN off-spinner Washington Sundar will be on the radar considering the home Test calendar for the year.

IIT Madras closed 2023 with 350 startups & ₹45,000 cr valuation

VAITHEESWARAN B @Chennai

IIT Madras Incubation cell aims to incubate at least 100 startups this year with focus on climate-tech, agriculture, rural-tech, water, sustainability-related, future factory, supply chain management.

"We are sector-agnostic, but we would focus on certain areas of interest and attract young entrepreneurs (for that), in the next three months," said Tamaswati Ghosh, Chief Executive Officer of IIT Madras Incubation Cell. "We are not just waiting for startups to apply, but we are also creating programs to generate potential for new startups." Country's leading academia-backed incubator onboarded 70 last year. IITMIC incubated startups totaled 350 in 2023 and have a combined valuation of ₹45,000 crores. In the financial years 2022-23, they have a combined revenue of ₹3,000 crores. Tamaswati Ghosh said it is a good measure of startups' performance." Amid the funding winter, she says startups at IITM took longer to close the funding rounds than usual but managed to pull off investments. "It all goes down to certain principles the way companies are being run where investor confidence falls."

"For the majority of the companies here, getting funding has not been difficult, but (it) got longer to close the round. Startups across stages have received funds. Some well-known companies have closed funds with good valuation."

IIT Madras enjoys a high success rate in deep-tech ranging from Space-tech, drones, semiconductors, hyperloop, robotics and life sciences, boasting 80% survival rate since its inception in 2010. But many of the startups have not scaled up in a big way like Flipkart, Zomato and Swiggy or gone public. IITM's Uniphore became an Unicorn in 2022 with a USD 400 million funding. Most startups are in the business to business (B2B) ventures rather than consumer-tech business. Tamaswati Ghosh expects a few major startups to scale up their business this year including Agnikul Cosmos, Ather Energy and others.

She said the incubation cell aims to bring startups from remote places, reach out to students from tier- II, tier- III and tier- IV cities to create entrepreneurial culture. IITMIC partners with around 50 colleges and co-incubating startups from non-metro cities to create entrepreneurial hub within these institutions. "It is all about confidence."

Though the institute has a pan India presence of incubatees, it is concentrated in the south and plans to expand its geography throughout the country. IIT Madras has multiple centers of innovation, pre-incubators, five incubators including the mother incubator IIT Madras Incubation cell, cyber-physical system incubators, Health-tech incubator, bio-tech incubators, rural-tech incubators.

Speaking to TNIE, IIT Madras Director Prof. V Kamakoti said, starting 100 startups which essentially mean 2-3 people will become CEOs and CTOs. "We have to have some kind of target," he said, adding they aim to guide startups to scale-up, becoming unicorns.

This year he wants more startups out of IIT-M students. Space sector, satellite and communications, manufacturing, robotics, accessibility, will play a major role in 2024, apart from fintech, IT and AI-related startups, he said.

The institute has a high number of patent filing among IITs and plans to share its patent filing mechanism with other colleges and hope the technology licensing will soon become a big chunk of revenue for the institute. Recently, 5G radio access network (RAN) technology developed by IIT Madras and others has been licensed to Tata's Tejas Networks. "We are now pushing on innovation and entrepreneurship, the two important things to make our country a tech power," Prof V Kamakoti said.

Tethered drones for longer flights and strategic applications

VAITHEESWARAN B @Chennai

CHENNAI-BASED Anna University and drone startup Daksha Unmanned Systems are to start commercial production of tethered drones which will be connected to the ground with a kevlar-coated glass fiber cable. The cable provides power supply to the drones and telemetry data to the ground. Anna University recently got a patent for tethered drones. It could be operated continuously without battery concerns, improves payload capacity and prove useful for strategic applications. Dr K Senthil Kumar, Professor and Director of Dr Kalam Advanced UAV Research Centre at Anna University told TNIE that currently it has been tested for up to eight hours. "It could be deployed round the clock if the motor and components are optimized for long hours. These types of drones cannot be hacked, and could be used for defence camp prot! ection and surveillance, and other areas"

Tethered drones can be used for fire and rescue operations in high-rise buildings, disaster management like establishing an antenna for Telecommunication purposes, logistics and other things.
